African Traditional Religion and Christianity Chukwudum Barnabas Okolo,1995 A Reader in African Christian Theology John Parratt,2001 Christianity and African Culture J. N. Kanyua Mugambi,2002 African Traditional Religion in the Light of the Bible Richard J. Gehman,2001 African Traditional Religion and the Christian Faith Cornelius Olowola,1993 This book provides a new constructive and critical approach to African traditional religion from the standpoint of Christian faith Authentic African Christianity Peter Nlemadim DomNwachukwu,2000 How deeply committed to the Christian faith are the Igbo This question is both timely and current for the issue of practicing Christianity in Igboland and deserves both objective and enduring answers To answer this question objectively and suggest an enduring solution to the surface level Christianity in Igboland this book examines the nature of Christianity in Igboland and proposes dialogue as an effective inculturation model for authentic Igbo Christianity The author asserts that for Christianity to become authentically Igbo the Igbo must hear the Christian message in a language they can understand and conceive Christian meanings in symbols and metaphors that are native to them Dr DomNwachukwu combines literary and field research to present the current nature of Igbo Christianity highlighting its inadequacies and formulates practical steps to achieve authentic Igbo Christianity Engaging Religions and Worldviews in Africa Yusufu Turaki,2020-04-30 In a world of increasing globalization we live amidst a clash of cultures religions and worldviews each battling for the human heart and mind In this in depth study Yusufu Turaki offers a theological framework for engaging this clash of perspectives in Africa where traditional African religions colonialism and exposure to Christianity have each had a lasting impact on contemporary African worldviews Professor Turaki undertakes a systematic analysis of the nature of African Traditional Religion its complex history with Christianity and the need for African Christian theology to address its cultural and historical roots effectively He provides both a conceptual framework and practical guide for engaging African cultures and religions with compassion understanding and a firm foundation rooted in scriptural truth This book is an excellent resource for students of religion and theology as well as those interested in Africa s traditional heritage or drawn to the important work of cross cultural and inter religious dialogue Guidelines for Christian Theology in Africa Osadolor Imasogie,1986 African Christian Theology J. N. Kanyua Mugambi,1989 Issues in African Christian Theology Samuel Ngewa,Mark Shaw,Tite Tienou,1998 Christian theologians in Africa are faced with three conflicting worlds Christian faith African culture and modern culture In spite of the commitment of Christian theologians to live by biblical teaching there is a tendency for them to become involved with issues in their environments causing tension The salient issues confronting Christianity in Africa are examined from an evangelical standpoint Eighteen African scholars from Ethiopia Ghana Kenya Nigeria Tanzania together with colleagues from the US contribute perspectives grouped into four parts The Task of African Christian Theology The Foundations of African Christian Theology Christ and the Salvation in African Christian Theology and The Spirit the Church and the Future in African

Christian Theology Uniquely African? James Leland Cox, Gerrie ter Haar, 2003 Concerning themselves with the problematic nature of African Christian identity the contributors to this book adopt various cultural historical national and educational perspectives in order to reflect on the problem of African identities in a world dominated by Western ideological and religious systems Christianity and African Gods Yusufu Turaki, 1999 African Traditional Religion and Christian Counseling Karl Heinrich Grebe, 1997 The Kingdom of God in Africa Mark Shaw, Wanjiru M. Gitau, 2020-07-31 African Christianity is not an imported religion but rather one of the oldest forms of Christianity in the world In The Kingdom of God in Africa Mark Shaw and Wanjiru M Gitau trace the development and spread of African Christianity through its two thousand year history demonstrating how the African church has faithfully testified to the power and diversity of God s kingdom Both history students and casual readers will gain greater understanding of how key churches figures and movements across the continent conceptualized the kingdom of God and manifested it through their actions The only up to date single volume study of its kind this book also includes maps and statistics that aid readers to absorb the rich history of African Christianity and discover its impact on the rest of the world Toward an African Christianity Eugene Hillman, 1993 The author proposes an approach to missionary activity that incorporates the cultural ways and native religious mindset of the peoples being evangelized God in Africa Malcolm J. McVeigh, 1974 Combines clarity and simplicity of style with intuitive and scholarly depth bringing the Christian and African concepts of God into focus Christian Spirituality in Africa Sung Kyu Park, 2013-02-06 Christian Spirituality in Africa holistically approaches the convergence of East West and Christian Traditional African religions Its theological historical and anthropological perspectives contribute to a balanced understanding of Christian spirituality transformation in an African context African Traditional Religion Encounters Christianity John Chitakure, 2017-11-07 Right from the beginning of humankind God has never deprived a people of his grace and revelation In fact God uses people s environment and culture to communicate his will There is no single religion that can claim to have the exclusive possession of God s revelation for God is too immense to be confined within one faith Hence it was erroneous blasphemous and misleading for some of the early Christian missionaries to Africa to claim that they had brought God to Africa a mentality that implied the non existence of God in Africa before their arrival Of course God was already in Africa but the missionaries either failed to discern his presence or just disregarded the traces of his existence This book explores the religious beliefs practices and values of the indigenous people of Africa at the time of the early missionaries arrival with particular reference to the Shona people of Zimbabwe It also evaluates the extent of the missionarie s successes and challenges in converting Africans to Christianity It finally surveys how African Christians have remained attached to the indigenous religious beliefs that used to provide answers to their existential questions African Traditional Religion in the Modern World, 2d ed. Douglas E. Thomas, 2015-05-11 African traditional religion encompasses a variety of non dogmatic spiritual practices followed by millions around the world Some scholars argue it is related to the

Nubian religion of Egypt's Dynastic Period In an expanded second edition this book examines the nature of African traditional religion and describes common attributes of various cultural belief systems with an emphasis on West Africa Principal elements studied include sacrifice salvation and culture modes of revelation divination and African resilience in the face of invasion and colonization The religious experiences of black people throughout the Americas are also covered The author finds the cosmology symbolism and rituals of the Yoruba culture to be the fundamental bases of African traditional religion and draws similarities between the oral and written literature of West Africans and that of New World practitioners The influence of Islam and Christianity is also discussed Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here The Gods of Africa Or the God of the Bible?: The Snares of African Traditional Religion in Biblical Perspective Leonard Nyirongo,2018-08-29 Our problem on the African continent at the moment is the following Western people in general and Christian missionaries in particular were mostly uncritical about their own European culture and over critical about African culture In reaction African Christians in general and theologians in particular are today on the one hand very critical about the Western type of Christianity which has been transplanted to the continent but on the other hand not critical enough about their own African culture and traditional religion Many African theologians for instance claim that before the Gospel came to our continent Africans already correctly worshiped the true God They say that the Gospel was not the beginning of the true knowledge of God but merely a continuation or fulfillment of true faith that already existed in the pre Christian African's heart Some even go so far as to suggest that the African's method of approaching God is as valid as the way of salvation through the Gospel Such ideas are emphatically denied in this book The whole book is more than an attempt to present African indigenous beliefs in a systematic manner comparing it with Biblical teaching It is not only against Western secularism but also strongly opposed to the very strong syncretistic tendency in African church life and in African theology It convincingly argues that the idea of adaptation should be replaced by the idea of transformation in the light of God's Word We cannot have a peaceful accommodation but only a powerful confrontation between traditional African religion and real Biblical Christian faith This clash of irreconcilable spiritual powers becomes clear on every page a struggle between life and death a struggle for control of the hearts and minds of the African people The writer pleads with his fellow African to make a definite choice either the Gospel or traditional beliefs and not to opt for a
