Autobiographical Voices:

Autobiographical Voices Françoise Lionnet, 2018-03-15 Adopting a boldly innovative approach to women's autobiographical writing Françoise Lionnet here examines the rhetoric of self-portraiture in works by authors who are bilingual or multilingual or of mixed races or cultures Autobiographical Voices offers incisive readings of texts by Zora Neale Hurston Maya Angelou Marie Cardinal Maryse Condé Marie Thérèse Humbert Augustine and Nietzsche Emergent Forms of Life and the Anthropological Voice Michael M. J. Fischer, 2003 Table of contents A Poetics of Arabic Autobiography Ariel M. Sheerit, 2020-02-27 This book examines the poetics of autobiographical masterpieces written in Arabic by Leila Abouzeid Hanan al-Shaykh Samuel Shimon Abd al-Rahman Munif Salim Barakat Mohamed Choukri and Hanna Abu Hanna These literary works articulate the life story of each author in ways that undermine the expectation that the self the auto of autobiography would be the dominant narrative focus Although every autobiography naturally includes and relates to others to one degree or another these autobiographies tend to foreground other characters voices places and texts to the extent that at times it appears as though the autobiographical subject has dropped out of sight even to the point of raising the question is this an autobiography These are indeed autobiographies Sheerit argues albeit articulating the story of the self in unconventional ways Sheerit offers in-depth literary studies that expose each text's distinct strategy for life narrative Crucial to this book's approach is the innovative theoretical foundation of relational autobiography that reveals the grounding of the self within the collective not as symbolic of it This framework exposes the intersection of the story of the autobiographical subject with the stories of others and the tensions between personal and communal discourse Relational strategies for self-representation expose a movement between two seemingly opposing desires the desire to separate and dissociate from others and the desire to engage and integrate within a particular relationship community culture or milieu This interplay between disentangling and conscious entangling constitutes the leitmotif that unites the studies in this book Reading Autobiography Sidonie Smith, 2001 Women, War, Domesticity Nicole Huang, 2005-03-01 In December 1941 the fifth year in an all-scale cataclysmic Sino-Japanese war that devoured much of Eastern China the city of Shanghai entered into an era of full occupation This was the moment when a group of young women authors began writing and soon took over the cultural scene of the besieged metropolis Women War Domesticity reconstructs cultures of reading writing and publishing in the city of Shanghai during the three years and eight months of Japanese occupation It specifically depicts the formation of a new cultural arena initiated by a group of women who not only wrote edited and published but also took part in defining and transforming the structure of modern knowledge discussing it in various public forums surrounding the print media and consequently promoting themselves as authoritative cultural commentators of the era First Person Jewish Alisa Lebow, 2008 Examining more than a dozen films from Jewish artists this book reveals how the postmodern impulse to turn the lens inward intersects provocatively with historical tropes and stereotypes of the Jew It focuses on Jewish filmmakers working on the margins and examines the work of Jonathan Caouette Chantal Akerman and many more Hybridity Anjali Prabhu, 2012-02-01 This critical engagement with some of the most prominent contemporary theorists of postcolonial studies reevaluates recent theories of hybridity and agency Challenging the claim that hybridity provides a site of resistance to hegemonic and homogenizing forces in an increasingly globalized world Anjali Prabhu pursues the ways in which hybridity plays out in the Creole postcolonial societies of Mauritius and La Reunion two small islands in the Indian Ocean and offers an introduction to the literature and culture of this lesser known region of Francophonie She also reconsiders two major theorists from the Francophone context Edouard Glissant and Frantz Fanon through a provocatively Marxian framing that reveals these two writers shared more in common about agency and society than has previously been recognized Race, Gender and Politics in Michelle Obama's Autobiography "Becoming". An African American Women's Autobiography and First Lady Memoir Dianne Petrov, 2021-02-03 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject American Studies Literature University of Luxembourg language English abstract This BA dissertation is dedicated to the genre of autobiographies also known as life writing It focuses on Michelle Obama's 2018 memoir Becoming and discusses both the traditions of African American female autobiographies and the political memoir genre Becoming permits Obama to tell her own story to set the record straight It gives her the opportunity to rewrite her story and define her own identity for herself Writing as a former political figure the First Lady of the United States of America Obama does not refrain from incorporating her personal life as well as a personal message As a former First Lady Becoming can be understood as being part of the genre of the First Lady memoir As such Obama's autobiography can be defined as an intersection between African American women's autobiographies and the genre of First Lady memoir which have both been largely excluded from the literary canon Thus Obama constitutes a minority within a minority as she is not only a First Lady but she is the nation's only African American First Lady Moreover Obama constitutes a political observer and having written one of the most valuable autobiographies of the twenty first century she illustrates how despite the fact that African Americans have largely been excluded from American politics her autobiography demonstrates the progress America has made by electing its first African American president In this thesis it is my contention that Obama's autobiography Becoming constructs an amalgamation between African American women's life writing and the autobiographical sub genre of the First Lady memoir African American women autobiographers construct a self that has as Terrell puts it two central handicaps gender and race This statement from the 20th century captures the intersectionality of African American women's identities In her autobiography Becoming Michelle Obama shows her awareness of her intersectional identity as she writes I've been the only woman the only African American in all sorts of rooms Thus the tradition of African American women's autobiographies requires a suitable theoretical framework when examining their texts "Other" Voices David De Brou, Aileen Moffatt, 1995 This book compiles essays from individuals and groups of Saskatchewan women highlighting the province's diversity in race ethnicity class religion and language The book begins with an essay on the development of Saskatchewan women s history through three stages then presents essays on the interplay of ethnicity and gender in Swedish women French speaking women and homesickness Jewish women in two rural settings the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire women and relief in Saskatoon farmers wives aboriginal women adapting to change and recent immigrant women

Embodying Autobiography and Mothering Feminist Theory R. Joyce Lausch,2003 Legacies and Identity Martin Kane,2002 This volume seeks to trace the robustly critical process of historical political and personal self examination to be found in German literature of the 1990s Scholars from Australia Britain Germany and the USA have contributed essays which deal with a broad range of East and West German writers Biskupek Grass Hilbig K nigsdorf Maron Mensching Walser Wenzel and Wolf as well as with general topics such as literature and the Stasi and the response to the aftermath of unification to be found in autobiographical writing lyric poetry satirical fiction and cabaret texts For all their diversity a common thread can be discerned in these writers and the literature they have produced a concern for the particularity of the East German experience past and present and a desire to explore that discrete identity in both its positive and negative aspects which stubbornly persisted over a decade in which the citizens of the German Democratic Republic saw themselves their institutions and their culture swept up and consigned to oblivion

Of Self and Injustice C. W. Watson,2006 Since the downfall of Soeharto in 1998 many autobiographical writings have appeared in Indonesia from the pens of those who were marginalized by his so called New Order regime This book examines representative autobiographies of several such individuals two ex political prisoners who describe themselves as Muslim Communists two writers of the left one a woman in a senior position in the left wing women s organization Gerwani and one a well known male novelist who spent years in exile in China and Russia two Muslim opponents of Soeharto one an intellectual and the other a political campaigner and finally two collections of short autobiographies by the younger generation one a group involved in social welfare action the other a group of dedicated young Muslims The scrutiny of the texts is in all cases preceded by a brief account of the historical and cultural context of the writing of the autobiographies In the analysis of the works themselves the emphasis is on trying to represent the implicit tone of the narrative as much as its overt contents Both general and specialist readers are consequently invited to reflect on the memories and experiences of significant participant observers as a mode of understanding a recent period in Indonesian history Historical Narratives in the Caribbean Linda Maria Rodriguez,1994 Speaking Chicana Delma Letticia Galindo,María Dolores Gonzales,1999-03 Speaking Chicana represents a significant contribution not only to sociolinguistics but also to other fields including women s studies Chicana o studies anthropology and cultural studies Proceedings ,1989

The Mother Mirror Laurie Corbin,2001 In The Mother Mirror Laurie Corbin studies the mother daughter relationships portrayed in autobiographical works by Colette Simone de Beauvoir and Marguerite Duras Psychoanalytic theory in particular the work of Luce Irigaray and Julia Kristeva is used to show how women s self representations can be determined by the ways in which they see their mothers Corbin s feminist theoretical framework illuminates both the psychological and the social contexts of these autobiographical works showing that even the most intimate relationships are shaped by social structures and that social reality is dependent on the workings of the psyche Book Jacket
