Apprenticeship in Critical Ethnographic Practice Jean Lave, 2011-04-15 In this extended meditation Jean Lave interweaves analysis of the process of apprenticeship among the Vai and Gola tailors of Liberia with reflections on the evolution of her research on those tailors in the late 1970s In so doing she provides both a detailed account of her apprenticeship in the art of sustained fieldwork and an insightful overview of thirty years of changes in the empirical and theoretical facets of ethnographic practice Examining the issues she confronted in her own work Lave shows how the critical questions raised by ethnographic research erode conventional assumptions altering the direction of the work that follows As ethnography takes on increasing significance to an ever widening field of thinkers on topics from education to ecology this erudite but accessible book will be essential to anyone tackling the question of what it means to undertake critical and conceptually challenging fieldwork Apprenticeship in Critical Ethnographic Practice explains how to seriously explore what it means to be human in a complex world and why it is so important

New Directions in Two-Year College Mathematics Donald J. Albers, Stephen B. Rodi, Ann E. Watkins, 2012-12-06 by Donald J Albers ix INTRODUCTION In July of 1984 the first national conference on mathematics education in two year colleges was held at Menlo College The conference was funded by the Alfred P Sloan Foundation Two year colleges account for more than one third of all undergraduate enrollments in mathematics and more than one half of all college freshmen are enrolled in two year colleges These two facts alone suggest the importance of mathematics education in two year colleges particularly to secondary schools four year colleges and universities For a variety of reasons four year colleges and universities are relatively unaware of two year colleges Arthur Cohen who was a participant at the New Directions conference warns Four year colleges and universities ignore two year colleges at their own peril Ross Taylor another conference participant encouraged two year college faculty to be ever mindful of their main source of students secondary schools and to work hard to strengthen their ties with them There are many other reasons why it was important to examine two year college mathematics from a national perspective 1 Over the last quarter century no other sector of higher education has grown so rapidly as have two year colleges Their enrollments tripled in the 60 s doubled in the 70 s and continue to increase rapidly in the 80 s x 2 Twenty five years ago two year colleges accounted for only one seventh of all undergraduate mathematics enrollments today the fraction is more than one third Dr. Riemann's Zeros Karl Sabbagh, 2003 Since its inception by Bernard Riemann in 1859 every pure mathematician has longed for a proof for the Riemann hypothesis Riemann's hypothesis seeks to explain where every single prime number to infinity will occur This is the story of the quest for the solution Computational Science - ICCS 2009 Gabrielle Allen, Jaroslaw Nabrzyski, Edward Seidel, Geert Dick van Albada, Jack Dongarra, Peter M.A. Sloot, 2009-05-21 There is something fascinating about science One gets such wholesale returns of conjecture out of such a trifling investment of fact Mark Twain Life on the Mississippi The challenges in succeeding with computational science are numerous and deeply affect all disciplines NSF's 2006 Blue Ribbon Panel of Simulation Based 1 Engineering Science SBES states researchers and educators agree computational and simulation engineering sciences are fundamental to the security and welfare of the United States We must overcome difficulties inherent in multiscale modeling the development of next generation algorithms and the design of dynamic data driven application systems We must determine better ways to integrate data intensive computing visualization and simulation importantly we must overhaul our educational system to foster the interdisciplinary study The payoff for meeting these challenges are profound The International Conference on Computational Science 2009 ICCS 2009 explored how computational sciences are not only advancing the traditional hard science disciplines but also stretching beyond with applications in the arts humanities media and all aspects of research This interdisciplinary conference drew academic and industry leaders from a variety of fields including physics astronomy mathematics music digital media biology and engineering The conference also hosted computer and computational scientists who are designing and building the better infrastructure necessary for next generation computing Discussions focused on innovative ways to collaborate and how computational science is changing the future of research ICCS 2009 Compute Discover Innovate was hosted by the Center for Computation and Technology at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge Opportunities in Apprenticeship, 1976 Apprenticeship opportunities in skilled occupations crafts and trades United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry Journal, 1967 Mathematics for Life and Work A Comparative Perspective on Mathematics to Inform Upper Secondary Reform in England OECD, 2024-11-05 Engagement and performance in mathematics at the upper secondary level have been the concern of successive governments in England This report was commissioned as part of the country's policy reflections for transforming how maths is viewed and experienced in England The report explores outcomes such as the share of students studying maths and performance across countries and how education systems internationally deliver mathematics in upper secondary It also examines factors shaping maths education including the expectations set by curricula student pathways cultural perceptions and the needs of the labour market and higher education The Professional Development of Graduate Teaching Assistants Michele Marinovich, Jack Prostko, Frederic Stout, 1998 This comprehensive TA training handbook is an essential resource for those who prepare graduate TAs for their responsibilities in Apprenticeship Training Dietmar Harhoff,Thomas J. Kane,1993 Much of the current discussion promoting apprenticeship programs in the U S proceeds as if it is simply a matter of historical accident or lack of imagination which has hindered human capital investment by U S firms However the cause may be rooted more deeply in our labor market institutions This paper discusses the structure of incentives undergirding the German system of apprenticeship training Many German firms face large net costs of apprenticeship training Yet they continue to provide such training in spite of considerable worker turnover upon completion of the training The simplest human capital model suggests that employers would be willing to finance only firm specific training Rather than engage in a futile debate over the general or specific nature of the skills being provided we first describe and evaluate 3 characteristics of the German labor market which may lead firms to accept part of the cost of general training even in the face of worker turnover We then attempt to understand why German workers and firms may be more willing to invest even in firm specific skills than in the U S Finally we discuss some implications of these results for the current vocational training debate in the U S Collegian ,1913
