The Church of the Archangel Michael at Kavalariana Angeliki Lymberopoulou,2006-12-31 Dr Angeliki Lymberopoulou lectures on Byzantine Studies at the Open University and is an expert on the art and society of Venetian dominated Crete 1211 1669 During this period Crete was perhaps the most important Venetian stronghold in the Mediterranean The traditional view that there was little cultural interaction between the native Greek Orthodox population and the Venetian colonists has recently been cast in doubt From the early fourteenth century onwards the two ethnically and religiously different inhabitants of Crete formed in fact a hybrid society and Cretan artistic development reflects this progress The book focuses as a case study on the church of the Archangel Michael at Kavalariana This is a small church in the village of Kavalariana on the south western part of the island It is dated by a dedicatory inscription to the year 1327 28 The conservative iconographic programme of the wall paintings inside the church consists of seventeen religious scenes and thirty three isolated saintly figures As the paintings are signed Ioannes they have been attributed to the prolific fourteenth century Cretan artist Ioannes Pagomenos A close examination of the style and comparisons with Pagomenos oeuvre suggest however that Ioannes of Kavalariana was a separate artist with an identity of his own A unique feature of the Kavalariana cycle is the pro Venetian inscription which in combination with the fourteen portraits of the donors that appear in the church forms an important witness to Venetian Cretan cultural interaction
