The long and short of mental time travel-- self-projection over time-scales large and small James

M. Broadway, Claire M. Zedelius, Jonathan W. Schooler, Simon Grondin, 2015-07-02 Researchers working in many fields of psychology and neuroscience are interested in the temporal structure of experience as well as the experience of time at scales of a few milliseconds up to a few seconds as well as days months years and beyond This Research Topic supposes that broadly speaking the field of time psychology can be organized by distinguishing between perceptual and conceptual time scales Dealing with conceptual time mental time travel also called mental simulation self projection episodic semantic memory propection foresight allows humans and perhaps other animals to imagine and plan events and experiences in their personal futures based in large part on memories of their personal pasts as well as general knowledge Moreover contents of human language and thought are fundamentally organized by a temporal dimension enmeshed with it so thoroughly that it is usually expressible only through spatial metaphors But what might such notions have to do with experienced durations of events lasting milliseconds up to a few seconds during the so called present moment of perception action cycle time This Research Topic is organized around the general premise that by considering how mental time travel might scale down to time perception and vice versa no less progress and integrative synthesis within and across scientific domains might be facilitated Bipolar configurations of future and past orientations of the self may be repeated in parallel across conceptual and perceptual time scales subsumed by a general Janus like feedforward feedback system for goal pursuit As an example it is notable that the duality of propection and semantic episodic memory operating at conceptual time scales has an analogue in perception action cycle time namely the interplay of anticipatory attention and working memory Authors from all areas of psychology and neuroscience are encouraged to submit articles of any format accepted by the journal Original Research Methods Hypothesis Theory Reviews etc which might speak to questions about time and temporal phenomena at long and or short time scales Cumulative Author Index to Psychological Abstracts ,1978 Unesco List of Documents and Publications Unesco,1979 Methods for the Allocation of Investments in Infrastructure Within Integrated Development Planning Peter Treuner, United Nations Centre for Human Settlements, 1989 The Human Odyssey Paul S. Kaplan, 1998 In The Human Odyssey Life Span Development Third Edition Paul S Kaplan embarks the reader on a sweeping journey through life examining the physical and intellectual changes we undergo from conception through death Now thoroughly updated with more multicultural material and numerous new features this book continues to skillfully build on the basic themes of life span development Kaplan s chronological approach allows the reader to examine the entire human life experience whereas many life span books are weighted in childhood and adolescence And by putting experiences into context such as the family school and community and culture the author is able to include a level of applied information that consistently maintains student interest The Analysis and Control of Human Experiences Paul Maslow, 1946 Pacific Medical Journal ,1913 The Quarterly Journal of Experimental Psychology ,2004 Alberta Journal of Educational Research ,2001 Psychosocial Components of Occupational Therapy Anne Cronin Mosey, 1986 Dr Anne Cronin

Mosey author of Activities Therapy Occupational Therapy Configuration of a Profession and other esteemed texts in the field of occupational therapy has produced a comprehensive and synthetic review of the diverse body of knowledge that forms the basis of psychosocial assessment and intervention and the various available intervention strategies. In addition to providing the practitioner with a sound conceptual basis for psychosocial evaluation and intervention, Psychosocial Components of Occupational Therapy is ideally suited for use as a primary text in courses related to performance components, occupational performances, social cultural factors, human growth and development, therapeutic tools, group process, activity groups, the evaluation and intervention process, and occupational therapy for psychosocial dysfunction. It can also be used as a secondary text for courses providing an orientation to occupational therapy, for courses on occupational therapy and sensory integration, and for courses in occupational therapy with the elderly, the developmentally disabled, and the physically disabled.

Handbook of Child Psychology, Theoretical Models of Human Development William Damon, Richard M. Lerner, 2006-03-31
Part of the authoritative four volume reference that spans the entire field of child development and has set the standard against which all other scholarly references are compared. Updated and revised to reflect the new developments in the field, the Handbook of Child Psychology Sixth Edition contains new chapters on such topics as spirituality, social understanding, and non verbal communication. Volume 1 Theoretical Models of Human Development edited by Richard M Lerner, Tufts University, explores a variety of theoretical approaches including life span, life course theories, socio culture theories, structural theories, object relations theories, and diversity and development theories. New chapters cover phenomenology and ecological systems theory, positive youth development, and religious and spiritual development. Willard and Spackman's Occupational Therapy Helen S.
