mission as formulated by its founder Mary Baker Eddy Concentrating on the quarter century preceding Eddy's death a period of phenomenal growth for Christian Science Gottschalk challenges the conventional academic view of the movement as a fringe sect He finds instead a serious and distinctive though radical religious teaching that began to flower just as orthodox Protestantism began to fade He gives a clear and detailed account of the rancorous controversies between Christian Science and the various mind cure and occult movements with which it is often associated and contends that Christian Science appealed to disenchanting Protestants because of its pragmatic quality a quality that relates it to the mainstream of American culture This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1973

Christianity and Science Haught, John F.,2014-04-10 There is nothing in Christian faith that should make one afraid of science's widening and deepening knowledge No matter how enormous the picture of the natural world turns out to be it can never surpass the infinity we have always attributed to God In this work John Haught a leading Catholic theological voice in the study of science and religion offers his most systematic theological reflections on the relation between Christian revelation and the unfolding story of the universe In the face of recent discoveries some maintain their faith by clinging to a pre scientific world view others conclude that perhaps the universe has outgrown the biblical God who is said to be its creator For Haught however exploration of the three infinities the immense the infinitesimal and the complex serves as invitation to an unprecedented appreciation for the grandeur of God creation Christ and redemption
