Christmas Carp:

Culture and Customs of the Czech Republic and Slovakia Craig Cravens, 2006-08-30 The Czech Republic is a red hot European destination and the charms of Slovakia are slowly being discovered by Westerners as well The two countries share fundamental similarities in language and culture but they never really managed to create a common national Czechoslovak identity after being merged in 1918 when the Austro Hungarian Empire collapsed With the lifting of the Iron Curtain in 1989 through the Velvet Revolution and the final breakup of Czechoslovakia in to two countries in 1993 this up to date substantive insight is much needed This volume overviews the current social cultural and political scene of both countries so that general readers come away with a solid understanding of where the Czechs and Slovaks have been and where they are going The land people and history chapter lays the groundwork for the rest of the narrative In the chapter on religion and thought the reasons for the widespread atheism of the Czechs and the contrasting religiosity of the Slovaks are explained Both peoples are shown to have relaxed attitude toward life and a love of celebrations with a strong beer culture The state of women and family and feminism in the post Soviet era is also discussed and readers will learn about the role of romance novels and the Czech Cosmopolitan The literature chapter emphasizes the Czech sense of humor and the lack of translations of Slovakian works The crises in journalism and cinema are other important topics Finally the strong traditions of theater and music which have always been part of the Czech national consciousness are seen to be as alive and vibrant as in any place in the world

Moving Subjects, Moving Objects Maruška Svašek, 2012-05-01 In recent years an increasing number of scholars have incorporated a focus on emotions in their theories of material culture transnationalism and globalization and this book aims to contribute to this field of inquiry It examines how emotions can be theorized and serves as a useful analytical tool for understanding the interrelated mobility of humans objects and images Ethnographically rich and theoretically grounded case studies offer new perspectives on the relations between migration material culture and emotions While some chapters address the many different ways in which migrants and migrant artists express their emotions through objects and images in transnational contexts other chapters focus on how particular works of art everyday objects and artefacts can evoke feelings specific to particular migrant groups and communities Case studies also analyse how artists academics and policy makers can stimulate positive interaction between migrants and non migrant communities

Animal Law Worldwide Federico Dalpane, Maria Baideldinova, 2024-11-18 This book offers a unique panoramic survey of the state of animal law in twenty six countries and in the legal system of the European Union The authors give a brief introduction to each jurisdiction examine key issues and formulate recommendations The contributions provide ample opportunities for legal comparative studies touching on constitutional law criminal law civil law environmental law and administrative law and discuss the crucial role of NGOs and civil society in raising awareness for the plight of animals The contributions show the mature stage reached by the discipline of animal law which is gaining attention in wider circles The book discusses wildlife agricultural animals experimental animals service animals stray animals and others One of the topics is the constitutionalisation of animal welfare with a growing number of countries amending their constitutions to include the protection of animals or considering such amendments Other topics include the trend of moving away from the age old legal classification of animals as mere things and the persistent weaknesses in the implementation of legal provisions for the protection of animals This book will be of keen interest to the worldwide animal law community legal comparatists legal theorists policy makers judges law enforcement officials as well as veterinary doctors Federico Dalpane is an assistant professor at KIMEP University College of Social Sciences Maria Baideldinova is an assistant professor at KIMEP University School of Law
