Bright Tomorrow:

Racing Form, 1924 Room 317 Kevin Bisbangan, Book of poems by Kevin Bisbangan Kevin Bisbangan takes his memories and feelings from pre revolution and post revolution time in Iran as well as his life in England and transforms them into an art form He uses elegy narrative and free verse techniques in order to express himself In addition rhythm rhyme and metaphor are some of the devices included in his poetry allowing for an aesthetic and flowing read Common themes in Kevin s poems are abstract concepts representing certain situations objects events or dream like imaginings which aim to provoke the readers subconscious mind to interpret the poem in a deeper more meaningful way Silent No More Lesley Kitchen Lababidi, 2002 Disability knows no boundaries of ethnicity religion gender or social background Silent No More highlights the many developments that have taken place especially during the past decade in social perceptions of disability and disabled persons in Egypt and in the services that enhance their quality of life The survey begins with a short overview of Egypt s prominent role in providing medical care for the disabled from the Middle Ages to the present and looks at how Egypt has today become the front runner in the Arab world in developing educational programs services and support for the mentally and physically disabled Drawing on extensive interviews Lesley Lababidi charts the changes of the present era by letting the disabled and their families teachers and therapists directors of government schools and leaders in nongovernmental organizations speak for themselves Their stories tell alternately of frustration commitment anger progress and courage Most importantly each person has a message that speaks to the future and the challenges that face Egyptians Book jacket The Bridgemen's Magazine, 1921 What Wins Walt Filkin, 1926 Poetic Art George S. Hanna, 2015-02-10 Welcome each new day as a new beginning and another chance to enjoy the beauty of living Dont accept the ugliness of life Flee it Life has beauty but few can see it One thing you have yet to discover is the joy of being a blessing to others George Hanna possesses a broad belief system based on the Bible not humanism It is with that in mind that he shares a volume of poetic art that illuminates the joys sorrows and uncertainties that accompany a journey through life Through his poems of inspiration reassurance love devotion nature and personal experiences Hanna presents the positive side of life through uplifting lyrical verse intended to lead lost souls to the light stimulate changes and renew faith in a loving God Through each poem Hanna relies on his own experiences to encourage selflessness a spreading of Gods message and a love for all creatures in the universe In this poignant compilation of verse a fresh voice shares reflections intended to help both the young and the old spread their wings and find everlasting joy faith and love Origins of the Dream W. Jason Miller, 2015-02-03 Since Martin Luther King Jr s I Have a Dream speech some scholars have privately suspected that King s dream was connected to Langston Hughes s poetry Drawing on archival materials including notes correspondence and marginalia W Jason Miller provides a completely original and compelling argument that Hughes s influence on King s rhetoric was in fact evident in more than just the one famous speech King s staff had been wiretapped by J Edgar Hoover and suffered accusations of communist influence so quoting or naming the leader of the Harlem Renaissance who had his own reputation as a communist would only have intensified the threats against the civil rights activist Thus the link was purposefully veiled through careful allusions in King s orations In Origins of the Dream Miller lifts that veil and shows how Hughes s revolutionary poetry became a measurable inflection in King s voice He contends that by employing Hughes s metaphors in his speeches King negotiated a political climate that sought to silence the poet s subversive voice By separating Hughes s identity from his poems King helped the nation unconsciously embrace the incendiary ideas behind his poetry Shop Review, 1929 The International Horseshoers' Monthly Magazine, 1921 Poultry Tribune, 1930 Bridge Men's Magazine, 1921
