British Architecture, 1984 A. Papadakēs, 1984 Why Architects Matter Flora Samuel, 2018-03-09 Why Architects Matter examines the key role of research led ethical architects in promoting wellbeing sustainability and innovation It argues that the profession needs to be clear about what it knows and the value of what it knows if it is to work successfully with others Without this clarity the marginalization of architects from the production of the built environment will continue preventing clients businesses and society from getting the buildings that they need The book offers a strategy for the development of a twenty first century knowledge led built environment including tools to help evidence develop and communicate that value to those outside the field Knowing how to demonstrate the impact and value of their work will strengthen practitioners ability to pitch for work and access new funding streams This is particularly important at a time of global economic downturn with ever greater competition for contracts and funds driving down fees and making it imperative to prove value at every level Why Architects Matter straddles the spheres of Practice Management and Law History and Theory Design Housing Sustainability Health Marketing and Advice for Clients bringing them into an accessible whole The book will therefore be of interest to professional architects architecture students and anyone with an interest in our built environment and the role of professionals within it NATØ: Narrative Architecture in Postmodern London Claire Jamieson, 2017-01-20 Chronicling the last radical architectural group of the twentieth century NAT Narrative Architecture Today who emerged from the Architectural Association at the start of the 1980s this book explores the group s work which echoed a wider artistic and literary culture that drew on the specific political social and physical condition of 1980s London It traces NAT s identification with a particular stream of post punk postmodern expression a celebration of the abject an aesthetic of entropy and a do it yourself provisionality NAT has most often been documented in reference to Nigel Coates the instigator of NAT which has led to a one sided one dimensional record of NAT s place in architectural history This book sets out a more detailed contextual history of NAT told through photographs drawings and ephemera restoring a truer polyvocal narrative of the group s ethos and development The Romantic Age in Britain Boris Ford, 1992 This is a comprehensive survey for students specialists and general readers of all major branches of the arts in 16th century Britain It also reveals the cultural and social setting in which writers musicians architects and other artists of the period worked Form and Fancy Joan S. Skinner, 1997-01-01 In 1916 at an unpropitious time Thomas Wallis founded a new practice Wallis Gilbert the fancy factories of the mid term years of 1927 35 the more sculptural and geometrical British modern later works up to 1939 and designs including overseas commissions that do not easily fit within the three style groups Skinner concludes with an evaluation of the philosophy of Wallis Gilbert Partners which was to contribute through the architectural design of factories to the successful pursuit of business by the companies that commissioned them Although factories have played an influential role in society for more than two centuries their design has rarely caught the imagination of architectural historians Their neglect of the field is now being rectified to some extent and this book will contribute to the further stimulation of interest in the architectural history of factories Architecture and Identity Chris Abel, Norman Foster, 2012-10-02 Instead of tuning the consumer to the machine we can now tune the machine to the consumer This edited collection of essays now in its second edition brings together the author's key writings on the cultural technological and theoretical developments reshaping Modern architecture into a responsive and diverse movement for the twenty first century Chris Abel approaches his subject from a wide range of knowledge including cybernetics philosophy new human science and development planning as well as his experience as a teacher and critic on four continents The result is a unique global perspective on the changing nature of Modern architecture at the turn of the millennium Including two new chapters this revised and expanded second edition offers radical insights into such topics as the impact of information technology on customized architecture production the relations between tradition and innovation prospects for a global eco culture and the local and global forces shaping the architecture and cities of Asia Chris Abel is an architectural writer and educator based in Malta He has taught at major universities in the UK North and South America Southeast Asia and the Middle East and is a contributor to numerous international journals and other publications He currently holds visiting appointments at the University of Malta and the University of the Philippines The British Architect, 1915 Archaeology and Ancient History Eberhard W.
