British Models of Art Collecting and the American Response Dr Inge Reist, 2014-10-28 This collection of fourteen essays by distinguished art and cultural historians examine points of similarity and difference in British and American art collecting Half the essays examine the trends that dominated the British art collecting scene of the nineteenth century Others focus on American collectors using biographical sketches and case studies to demonstrate how collectors in the United States embellished the British model to develop their own often philanthropic approach to art collecting British Paintings in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, 1575-1875 Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Katharine Baetjer, 2009 Covering the period between the late 16th century through to the third quarter of the 19th century this book features paintings by English Scottish Welsh and Irish artists which are part of the collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art Ten British Pictures, 1740-1840 Robert R. Wark, 1971 Donated The Margaret A Bailey Art Collection British Portrait Drawings, 1600-1900 Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery, Robert R. Wark, 1982 The Huntington collection of British art includes not only the unrivaled full length life size portrait paintings but also many examples of the less familiar more informal but charming side of British portraiture the drawings In this book twenty five of these drawings are reproduced each accompanied by a facing page of commentary There are works in pencil pen wash pastel watercolor and various combinations thereof Some are presentation works intended to fill a more private and intimate function than the life scale portraits in oil Some are preparatory studies for works of art Some are casual sketches made for the artist s own enjoyment or as a record of a memorable face The drawings are representative examples of the work of twenty five artists They range in date from the early seventeenth century to the early twentieth and vary enormously in style and purpose They include plumbagos miniatures in pencil done by the masters of the form Loggan and Forster drawings done in pencil and wash by Cosway Lawrence and Harlow drawings by Greenhill and Gardner and drawings used as preliminary studies for portraits to be done in oils by Ramsay Fuseli and Mortimer Together with Wark s text they demonstrate the quality of British achievement the variety in types and the fascinating complexity in appeal A Catalogue of Some of the Paintings of the British School in the Collection of Henry Edwards Huntington at San Marino, California Maurice Walter Brockwell, 1925 The Huntington Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery, Peggy Park Bernal, 2003 The treasures of the Huntington literary historic artistic and botanical are captured in this beautiful volume Lavishly illustrated with nearly 130 full color photographs and containing a wealth of information about the collections the book is both a pictorial treat and a fascinating resource for anyone wanting to learn more about the Huntington Archival Information Steven Fisher, 2004-03-30 From original manuscripts and letters to sound recordings and birth certificates archival information plays an increasingly important role in modern research Libraries and the Internet have made finding information on a wide range of topics faster and easier but not all information particularly from primary sources is available via local library branches or online resources Using archival information presents its own challenges Materials are often located in many different places public or academic libraries government agencies historical societies or museums They are usually kept in secured areas where the public is restricted from browsing This definitive guide shows novice and experienced researchers how to find archival information It provides tips on how to use archival materials effectively and efficiently Topics covered include government archives science and technology collections military archives genealogical
