Buried Mistakes Tabatha Crader, 2013-12 Madison tossed and turned as the nightmare came to life again Billy was standing in front of her with his fist coming straight for her face She threw her arms up but it didn't help The pain of the impact splintered through her head as she loses her balance She felt herself fall back on the end table and then to the floor Her back came alive with the burning pain from the impact She tried to scream NO but was crying so hard and was so scared that she'd just make him madder Madison prayed his rampage was over and he would just leave but instead he kicks her in the ribs as she crawls to get away Madison heard her ribs break The pain was so severe she thought she'd died Through the pain and her own cries she could hear Billy yelling You will never belong to anyone else You can't leave me you'll die first Madison was so confused on how someone she had dated for years could change so quickly It had to be the drugs She tried to help him but he refused She knew she had to leave him before their relationship got worse Madison was forced back to reality with the pain of Billy jerking her up by her hair Billy yelled something at her but Madison couldn't understand for she was losing consciousness He then threw her to the floor and began kicking her again She tried to block the kicks with her arms and legs but it hurt too badly Then he kicked her in the back of the head She lost consciousness as her world went black The smell of smoke woke her from her black world The pain ravished her body and she instantly wished she was dead Madison looked around at flames engulfing the living room She decided there must be a reason she awoke and that's to live not to die Even though the pain was more than she could stand she made her way to the bathroom away from the flames She waits as long as she could to make sure Billy was gone before she tries to make her escape After what seemed like forever she painfully made her way out the window

Why we choose companies and brands in the same way that we unconsciously perceive judge and behave toward one another People everywhere describe their relationships with brands in a deeply personal way we hate our banks love our smartphones and think the cable company is out to get us What's actually going on in our brains when we make these judgments Through original research customer loyalty expert Chris Malone and top social psychologist Susan Fiske discovered that our perceptions arise from spontaneous judgments on warmth and competence the same two factors that also determine our impressions of people We see companies and brands the same way we automatically perceive judge and behave toward one another As a result to achieve sustained success companies must forge genuine relationships with customers And as customers we have a right to expect relational accountability from the companies and brands we support Applies the social psychology concepts of warmth what intentions others have toward us and competence how capable they are of carrying out those intentions to the way we perceive and relate to companies and brands Features in depth analyses of companies such as Hershey's Domino's Lululemon Zappos Amazon Chobani Sprint and more Draws from original research evaluating over 45 companies over the course of 10 separate studies The Human Brand is essential reading for understanding how and why we make the choices we do as well as what it takes for companies and
