International Business Ethics Stephan Rothlin, Dennis McCann, 2015-07-29 This book addresses an essential need felt by many who seek to promote best business practices in China and East Asia namely the need for culturally appropriate instructional materials basic information case studies and ethical perspectives that will allow managers and entrepreneurs to understand and embrace the challenge of moral leadership in business In an era characterized by globalization and the increasing importance of the economies of China India Japan and SE Asia international business ethics must reflect the concerns of the people living and working in this area the moral and spiritual traditions that have nurtured them and their specific contributions to sustainable development This book presents twenty important case studies taken from newsworthy events of the past few years in which Asians and others have attempted to respond to this challenge Each case study has been selected and shaped in order to highlight various aspects of doing business in Asia starting with basic principles and moving on to the specific responsibilities that businesses have towards their various stakeholders The authors contend that the best way to appreciate the relevance of Asian moral and spiritual traditions is to determine their specific contribution to virtue ethics where the ancient traditions of both East and West converge in their focus on the qualities of moral leadership that form the basis of best business practice Exploring the case studies will enable readers to appreciate the continued relevance of these ethical perspectives in Asian business Best business practice clearly involves learning to do business and playing the game according to the rules but the necessity of playing by the rules is not likely to become clear until one takes up the path that leads to a virtuous life in business developing a moral character chiefly based on integrity

Marketing and the Common Good Patrick E. Murphy, John F. Sherry Jr., 2013-07-24 Marketing is among the most powerful cultural forces at work in the contemporary world affecting not merely consumer behaviour but almost every aspect of human behaviour While the potential for marketing both to promote and threaten societal well being has been a perennial focus of inquiry the current global intellectual and political climate has lent this topic extra gravitas Through original research and scholarship from the influential Mendoza School of Business this book looks at marketing's ramifications far beyond simple economic exchange It addresses four major topic areas societal aspects of marketing and consumption the social and ethical thought sustainability and public policy issues in order to explore the wider relationship of marketing within the ethical and moral economy and its implications for the common good By bringing together the wide ranging and interdisciplinary contributions it provides a uniquely comprehensive and challenging exploration of some of the most pressing themes for business and society today

Dimensions of Goodness Vittorio Hösle, 2014-10-02 Dimensions of Goodness is based on the second conference of the Notre Dame Institute for Advanced Study whose aim is to bridge the normative and descriptive dimensions of knowledge by bringing in as many disciplines as possible to address fundamental philosophical issues While the first conference dealt with the elusive topic of beauty the second addressed crucial issues of ethics In the first section of this volume the German philosophers Franz von Kutschera and Markus Gabriel discuss the nature of values and the reasons why we believe that normativity has a place in the world In the second section the British historian Jonathan Israel the American theologian Jennifer Herdt and the editor of the volume analyse epochal changes in our moral beliefs due to Enlightenment Christianity and the general evolution of moral ideas which is presented in a way that markedly differs from Alasdair MacIntyre's famous account The third section explores both the light that the exact sciences shed on the process of decision making in the contributions by the Italian neuroscientist Camillo Padoa-Schioppa and the Canadian psychologist Clive Seligman as well as the ethical challenges that modern science has brought forward in areas such as the responsibility of scientists bioethics and medical ethics in chapters by the Swiss chemist and Nobel laureate Richard Ernst the American bioethicist and historian of biology Jane Maienschein and the American philosopher and legal scholar Anita Allen The fourth section focuses on specific challenges of our time the British philosopher Robin Atfield explores the principles of environmental ethics the Swiss business ethicist Georges Enderle investigates goodness in economy the Mexican elder statesman former Secretary of Economy and of Foreign Affairs Luiz Ernesto Derbez Bautista looks at the challenges of development and the American legal scholars Steven D Smith and Mary Ellen O'Connell examine the place of religion in the American constitution and the power of international law in limiting violence respectively Finally the last section consists of a chapter by the well known Chinese intellectual Wang Hui on Lu Xun's struggle to find a middle way between respect of one's own tradition and the demands of globalization There is probably no other volume in which so many different disciplines come together to try to find a convergence of perspectives on basic moral issues The book will be invaluable to those who believe that goodness is the focal point of most academic disciplines and that academia can find a stronger point of unity in a common reflection on what goodness in various areas means
