Administrative Development Muhammad A. Al-Buraey, 2013-12-19 First published in 1986 The main purpose of this work is to present a developmental perspective different from the prevailing Western one The author hopes that this point of view will contribute towards the goal of developing a general theory of world development of human societies that presently does not exist Though the focus of this study is on Islamic views of administrative development other aspects of development such as the political and socio economic are also discussed Development Studies and Colonial Policy Barbara Ingham, Colin Simmons, 2005-06-28 First Published in 1987 This volume is the product of a number of meetings held by the Third World History and Development Study Group which is one of several study groups sponsored by the Development Studies Association The Group was formed in 1978 at the Development Studies Association Conference held at the University of Strathclyde Glasgow It comprises people who for one reason or another wish to raise the status of historical work within development studies seeking to redefine the scope and enlarge upon its role The present collection of essays represents research which has been done both on procedures and methodology in development studies and on colonialism as a historical process relevant to the study of underdevelopment Analyzing the Third World Norman Provizer, 2017-11-30 This book presents essays from Comparative Politics which analyze the Third World in terms of commonly shared intra state dynamics It draws attention to the internal attitudinal behavioral and organizational problems and transitions which characterize Third World countries Developing the Third World Robert A. Agunga, 1997 Striding boldly where other scholars have feared to tread Agunga offers a definitive solution strategy for people centered development armed with his upbringing in Africa considerable field work experience and knowledge of the literature He argues that development projects and programs fail because planners and policy makers lack training in communications skills and urges governments and donor agencies to include communications professionals in their programs Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Use of Earth Observations for Actionable Decision Making in the Developing World Niall Patrick Hanan, Ashutosh S. Mbroh, 2021-07-11 Within the theoretical framework of the trade growth and structural transformation growth nexuses the book examines the evolution of African goods and service trade in terms of value and share of global commerce relative to other regions during the period 1948-2017. It also identifies and discusses discernible changes in the composition and structure of African exports and imports between 1995 and 2015 and their implications for economic development in Africa. The study attributes Africa's laggard trade performance during the period primarily to sub-optimal macroeconomic policies and lack of bold export development policies and initiatives among other factors. It also offers an incisive discussion of several inhibitions to the structural transformation of African exports and imports including lack of finance, globalization, tariff and non-tariff measures in global markets. The discussion of the evolution of African trade during the period 1948-2017 based on statistics and publications of international organizations including the UNCTAD, the World Bank and the African Development Bank among others is the first of its kind in terms of scope and depth of review of African trade. The analyses of cross-border trade during 1948-2017 and their implications for Africa's economic development prospects constitute a useful reference material for academics and students of African and development studies and African and international policymakers.
