Developing Through Relationships:

Developing Through Relationships Alan Fogel, 1993-08-01 This accessible book explains how individuals develop through their relationships with others Alan Fogel demonstrates that human development is driven by a social dynamic process called co regulation the creative interaction of individuals to achieve a common goal He focuses on communication between adults between parents and children among non human animals and even among cells and genes to create an original model of human development Fogel explores the origins of communication personal identity and cultural participation and argues that from birth communication self and culture are inseparable He shows that the ability to participate as a human being in the world does not come about only with the acquisition of language as many scholars have thought but begins during an infant s earliest nonverbal period According to Fogel the human mind and sense of self start to develop at birth through communication and relationships between individuals Fogel weaves together theory and research from a variety of disciplines including psychology biology linguistics philosophy anthropology and cognitive science He rejects the objectivist perspective on development in favor of a relational perspective to treat the mind as an objective mechanical thing Fogel contends is to ignore the interactive character of thinking He argues that the life of the mind is a dialogue between imagined points of view like a dialogue between two different people and he uses this view to explain his relational theory of human development Developing through Relationships makes a substantial contribution not only to developmental psychology but also to the fields of communication cognitive science linguistics and biology

Developing Through Relationships Alan Fogel, 1993-08 The purpose of this outstanding new book is to explain how individuals develop through their relationships with others Alan Fogel demonstrates that creativity is at the heart human development arising out of a social dynamic process called co regulation He focuses on the act of communication between adults between parents and children among non human animals even among cells and genes to create an original model of human development Fogel weaves together theory and empirical findings from a variety of disciplines linguistics biology literature cognitive and neural science ethology anthropology and psychology to demonstrate the continuous process model of communication He contends that the human mind and sense of self must be seen as developing out of the processes of communication and relationship formation between the subject and other individuals Rarely has a work of scholarship so elegantly and so persuasively presented a complex psychological theory and its practical application Developing through Relationships not only makes a substantial contribution to developmental psychology but also to the fields of communication cognitive science linguistics and biology
