Developing Uganda:

Developing Uganda Holger Bernt Hansen, Michael Twaddle, 1998 Uganda's recovery has been one of the heartening achievements in a continent where the media have given intense coverage to disasters. This text assesses whether the reality lives up to the image which has so impressed the donors. It incorporates the influential Roskilde series of meetings between Ugandans, academics and officials of international organizations. The success of the reforms so far is considered as are the future prospects.

Developing Uganda Holger Bernt Hansen, 1998 Uganda's recovery since Museveni came to power in 1986 has been one of the heartening achievements in a continent where the media have given intense coverage to disasters. This book assesses the question of whether the reality lives up to the image that has so impressed the supporters of its recovery. What has actually happened? How successful have the reforms been thus far? What are the prospects for Uganda's future? Essays by the top scholars in the field span the breadth of the issue from Uganda's growth out of poverty to development at the grass roots level. Developing Uganda replaces the myth and misinformation the last decade has witnessed with a realistic scrutiny by those who have studied it with care and caution.

Renewing Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Ian Livingstone, D. G. R. Belshaw, 2002 After two decades of economic reform programmes the majority of countries in Sub-Saharan Africa still face the challenge of renewing the development progress that they were achieving in the 1960s and early 1970s. Promising beginnings in the post-independence countries ended in economic collapse in the 1980s. This led to stabilization and structural adjustment reforms but these have had disappointing results in most of the countries that applied them. In addition local scale inter-country conflicts and internal strife within the region and post-war complications have generated new problems. This volume reviews the ensuing debates and brings together specialist contributions to provide a clear guide to the major complexities of African development. A foundation is laid for designing a range of individual country specific policy sets in which the strategic components are prioritized according to each country's constraints and opportunities.

Economic Liberalization and Political Violence Francisco Gutiérrez Sanín, Gerd Schönwälder, 2010-09-15 Globalisation has spread neoliberal political economies worldwide but is the globalising of this economic system a tool for spreading peace and prosperity or a harbinger of conflict and war? The authors examine the effect of neoliberalism on violent conflict and war making in Sudan, the Ivory Coast, Peru and Colombia. Through quantitative and qualitative analyses they challenge advocates and opponents of neo-liberal reforms, revealing that the shift to neoliberal policies has produced widely diverging outcomes in different contexts, proving that the notion of global neoliberal homogeneity is flawed.

Corruption and Democratisation Alan Doig, Robin Theobald, 2013-11-05 The 1990s have seen an upsurge of interest and concern about the problem of political corruption. These papers examine in a range of national contexts the relationship between democratization and combating corruption. Are the two processes ultimately in conflict?
