Xenophon's Theory of Moral Education Houliang Lu,2014-11-19 Xenophon the Athenian who is well known both as a historian and as a witness of Socratic philosophy developed his own systematic thought on moral education from a social and mainly political perspective in his extant works His discourse on moral education represents the view of an unusual historical figure an innovative thinker as well as a man of action a mercenary general and a world citizen in his age As such it is therefore different from the discourse of contemporary pure philoso

History, Culture, and Religion of the Hellenistic Age Helmut Koester,2012-10-25 While the first American edition of this book published more than a decade ago was a revised translation of the German book Einf hrung in das Neue Testament this second edition of the first volume of the Introduction to the New Testament is no longer dependent upon a previously published German work The author hopes that for the student of the New Testament it is a useful introduction into the many complex aspects of the political cultural and religious developments that characterized the world in which early Christianity arose and by which the New Testament and other early Christian writings were shaped

Biblical Interpretation in Early Christian Gospels Volume 1 Thomas R. Hatina,2006-04-23 This collection of essays is the second volume in a projected series of five volumes that gather together recent research by leading scholars on the narrative function of embedded Jewish scripture texts quotations or allusions in early Christian Gospels While the contributors employ a diverse range of methods their research is directed towards considering the function of embedded scripture texts in the context of the Gospels as self contained narratives written and read heard in their early Christian settings The essays are arranged according to their appropriate methodological categories

Why Bíos? On the Relationship Between Gospel Genre

and Implied Audience Justin Marc Smith,2015-02-26 Justin Marc Smith argues that the gospels were intended to be addressed to a wide and varied audience He does this by considering them to be works of ancient biography comparative to the Greco Roman biography The earliest Christian interpreters of the Gospels did not understand their works to be sectarian documents Rather the wider context of Jesus literature in the second and third centuries points toward the broader Christian practice of writing and disseminating literary presentations of Jesus and Jesus traditions as widely as possible Smith addresses the difficulty in reconstructing the various gospel communities that might lie behind the gospel texts and suggests that the all nations motif present in all four of the canonical gospels suggests an ideal secondary audience beyond those who could be identified as Christian
