Development and Patronage ,1997      Political Clientelism, Patronage, and Development Shmuel Noah Eisenstadt, René Lemarchand, 1981      Directory of Research, Development & Demonstration Projects ,1978      Proceedings of the Annual Convention Society of American Florists and Ornamental Horticulturists, 1899      Development and Patronage Melakou Tegegn, 1997 The authors represented in this collection argue that far from being a liberating process for all much of what has been done in the name of development has served to reinforce the intellectual material and financial dependence of those on the receiving end Some argue that the very concept of development is essentially a vehicle in which cultural values and social norms as well as resources are exported from one part of the world to another along a one way route from rich to poor Assistance Strategy for Mexico annotated bibliography      Public Utilities Reports Henry Clifford Spurr, Ellsworth Nichols, 1923      Creating the Cold War University Rebecca S. Lowen, 1997-07-01 The cold war university is the academic component of the military industrial academic complex and its archetype according to Rebecca Lowen is Stanford University Her book challenges the conventional wisdom that the post World War II multiversity was created by military patrons on the one hand and academic scientists on the other and points instead to the crucial role played by university administrators in making their universities dependent upon military foundation and industrial patronage Contesting the view that the federal grant university originated with the outpouring of federal support for science after the war Lowen shows how the Depression had put financial pressure on universities and pushed administrators to seek new modes of funding She also details the ways that Stanford administrators transformed their institution to attract patronage With the end of the cold war and the tightening of federal budgets universities again face pressures not unlike those of the 1930s Lowen s analysis of how the university became dependent on the State is essential reading for anyone concerned about the future of higher education in the post cold war era      Operation & Maintenance ,1927      Angaité's responses to deforestation Marcos Glauser ,2019 The Gran Chaco the second largest biome of South America entered a phase of deep and fast environmental changes a few decades ago Indigenous peoples are amongst those most affected This dissertation focuses on the responses of the Angaité of La Patria to altered access use and management of natural resources inside and outside their colony over the past 20 years 1995 2015 From a third generation political ecologists perspective I consider the Angaité s adaptation a transformation of cosmographical practices because the latter contribute to the production of a particular place or territory and a particular understanding of the world      Baghdād ,2022-07-25 Baghdād From its Beginnings to the 14th Century offers an exhaustive handbook that covers all possible themes connected to the history of this urban complex in Iraq from its origins rooted in late antique Mesopotamia up to the aftermath of the Mongol invasion in 1258 Against the common perception of a city founded 762 in a vacuum which after experiencing a heyday in a mythical golden age under the early Abbāsids entered since 900 a long period of decline that ended with a complete collapse by savage people from the East in 1258
