

Writing academic English further along the road. What is happening now in EAP writing instruction?

Christopher Tribble

Approaching academic writing instruction

In an earlier Survey Review of EAP writing instruction materials for this journal (Tribble 2009), I proposed that the teaching of academic writing could be best understood in terms of three contrasting traditions: Social/Genre, Intellectual/Rhetorical, and Academic Literacies.

Social/Genre is an approach situated within an English for Specific Purposes tradition and founded on earlier work by M. A. K. Halliday and others in Register Analysis (for example Halliday, McIntosh, and Stevens 1964). The Social/Genre approach has been further elaborated by John Swales with his account of Genre (for example Swales 1988, 1990) and, more recently, by discourse analysts and corpus researchers such as Ken Hyland (for example Hyland 2000) and Hilary Nesi and Sheena Gardner (for example Nesi and Gardner 2012).

Key characteristics of this Social/Genre approach include:

- the conceptualization of disciplinary discourse communities in which there are expert and apprentice writers;
- an emphasis on the analysis of multiple exemplars of texts in their social context as a starting point for curriculum development;
- the use of move analysis as a means of understanding the structure of specific textual realizations of educational genres, and of corpus analysis in developing an understanding of the lexico-grammar of these genres;
- a recognition of the need to ensure the cooperation of disciplinary experts in EAP writing programmes; and
- the use of Vygotskian scaffolding as a core methodology.

The second tradition I identified was Intellectual/Rhetorical. This approach arose from instructional practices in North American Composition Studies (see, for example, Johns 1997) and was initially informed by Flower and Hayes' (1981) research into the cognitive processes involved in written composition. Key features of the Intellectual/Rhetorical approach include:

Ea Further Along Road: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the captivating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Ea Further Along Road : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Ea Further Along Road : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
