A Confession In Writing:

A Confession in Writing Alfred Shaughnessy, 1997 The author of novels Dearest Enemy and Hugo here writes about his experiences over 50 years in the world of stage film and television Criminal Interrogation and Confessions Fred Inbau, Joseph Buckley, Brian Jayne, 2013 Criminal Interrogations and Confessions Fifth Edition presents the Reid Technique of interviewing and interrogation and is the standard used in the field This updated Fifth Edition presents interviewing and interrogation techniques based on actual criminal cases which have been used successfully by thousands of criminal investigators This practical text is built around simple psychological principles and examines interrogation as a nine step process that is easily understood by the reader New and Key Features of the updated Fifth Edition The text contains updated photographs throughout to illustrate behavior symptoms the proper room setting and positioning as well the placement of electronic recording equipment Every chapter of the text includes updated information Chapter 9 Behavior Symptom Analysis contains new research that has been conducted on the efficacy of behavior symptom analysis as well as building for the reader the behavioral model of the truthful individual versus the subject who is withholding or fabricating relevant information Chapters 7 through 12 discuss in detail how to build the investigative interview including the proper use of both investigative and behavior provoking questions as well as guidelines for evaluating the credibility of allegations and the proper use of follow up and bait questions Chapter 15 Distinguishing between True and False Confessions has been updated to include new cases throughout and contains two new sections The Issue of False Confessions in the Courtroom The Testimony of Expert Witnesses and The Issue of False Confessions in the Courtroom Court Decisions Chapter 17 discusses all of the legal issues related to interrogation and confession law including Miranda the meaning of custody the use of threats and or promises the use of deception and confession voluntariness The chapter contains update legal references including 2011 court decisions Writing Sin in the German Lands, 1050-1215 Sarah Bowden, 2025-04-11 Writing Sin in the German Lands 1050 1215 is about how sin and atonement function as an impetus for textual production and formal linguistic and intellectual creativity It focuses on the late eleventh and twelfth centuries a time in which various social and cultural conditions came together to provoke both an interest in sin and an opportunity for writing experimentally about it and its area of enquiry is the German speaking world Working with a remarkably rich body of German language texts this book allows us not only to grasp with greater clarity aspects of medieval penitential thought and practice but it also offers new ways of thinking about the development of German as a literary language The book joins bodies of work on the history of penance and on devotional writing in the European vernaculars and through the interconnection of these two fields of study it offers a new perspective on questions that currently occupy scholars of the Middle Ages the medieval conception of the self in relation to other and to God the value and function of vernacular writing the nature of textuality and the relationship between writing speech material text and performance In five chapters that deal with a wide range of texts many of which have had little scholarly attention this volume shows that the long twelfth century was not only a period in which there was a particular interest in exploring aspects of the theology and practice of penance but also significantly a time in which a fundamental connection can be seen between thinking about sin and creative literary production
