Dreaming with the Ancestors Shirley Boteler Mock, 2012-10-09 Indian freedmen and their descendants have garnered much public and scholarly attention but women's roles have largely been absent from that discussion. Now a scholar who gained an insider's perspective into the Black Seminole community in Texas and Mexico offers a rare and vivid picture of these women and their contributions. In Dreaming with the Ancestors Shirley Boteler Mock explores the role that Black Seminole women have played in shaping and perpetuating a culture born of African roots and shaped by southeastern Native American and Mexican influences. Mock reveals a unique maroon culture forged from an eclectic mixture of religious beliefs and social practices. At its core is an amalgam of African-derived traditions kept alive by women. The author interweaves documentary research with extensive interviews she conducted with leading Black Seminole women to uncover their remarkable history. She tells how these women nourished their families and held fast to their Afro-Seminole language even as they fled slavery, endured relocation, and eventually sought new lives in new lands. Of key importance were the warrior women, keepers of dreams and visions that bring to life age-old African customs. Featuring more than thirty illustrations and maps, including historic photographs never before published, Dreaming with the Ancestors combines scholarly analysis with human interest to open a new window on both African American and American Indian history and culture. Expressive

Therapeutic Writing Krystal Leah Demaine, Tamar Reva Einstein, 2024-10-02 This book brings engagement and conversation to a cross-pollination of creative and expressive writing and multi-modal art forms. Through the lens of expressive arts therapy, the authors demonstrate how writing can reveal the unexpected that emerges from art-making. The lineage of expressive arts therapy includes artful writing, poetry, associative creative, and memoir, for example, to engage in self-discovery, growth, and restorative care. Each chapter is grounded in intermodal expressive arts with a central focus on creative and expressive writing, which is informed by movement, visual art, storytelling, music, sound, photography, and physical performance, including response art, and has writing prompts and invitations, as well as playful and improvisational integrative arts writing explorations. Creative arts therapists and expressive therapists actively searching for creative, playful, self-reflective writing practice will find this book a rewarding resource. Krystal Leah Demaine, PhD, MT, BC, REAT, CTRS, C, RYT, music therapist, expressive arts therapist, and professor of expressive therapies at Endicott College practices HEARTful healing, note by note, through song, story, poetry, and creative curiosity. Tamar Reva Einstein, PhD, REAT, expressive arts therapist, poet, artist, and teacher, crosses cultural borders in Jerusalem with the arts as her mother tongue, threading writing and arts like her threaded beads and amulets. Ancestry magazine, 2000-01 Ancestry magazine focuses on genealogy for today's family historian with tips for using Ancestry.com, advice from family history experts, and success stories from genealogists across the globe.
