A Map of Faring Peter Riley, 2005-05-06 A Map of Faring holds three major poetical sequences meditating on particular places an English wood a Transylvanian valley and a house in southern France as well as poems of places in Austria Germany The Czech Republic Italy Spain and elsewhere In these landscape and encounters become the vocabulary of a personal exploration of senses of time and passage and the fate of small localities in the spread of global forces A Map of Faring reckons with acts large and small that are transforming the world even as it searches to understand within that reckoning the possible regenerative presence of art

Divination Machine F. Daniel Rzicznek, 2009-08-19 We have confessional poets who write about themselves nature poets who write about place experimental poets who write about language And we have F Daniel Rzicznek who finds many centers to the world whose Divination Machine resists simplification into any one category Rzicznek is a poet for whom Everything is a piece of the vision H L Hix

System and Population Christopher Sindt, 2016-11-01 Christopher Sindt's System and Population returns to the primary theme of Sindt's earlier collection The Bodies the impact of human desire on the natural world System and Population focuses on the proposed damming of the American River canyon in northern California working with source texts such as geologic studies government documents and the diaries of gold miners to study the intersections of personal experience scientific study and the politics of rivers and dams It is a personal eco poetics that embraces the tradition of the lyric experimenting with collage and the explicit inclusion of historic and scientific data System and Population meditates on human experiences such as parenthood and loss and also studies the dissociative effects of environmental damage and disaster

Under the Quick Molly Bendall, 2009-08-26 In Molly Bendall's fourth book of poems the verbal underworld of doing and undoing oath love charm prayer curse becomes a refuge of tenderness and malediction One of her generation's most subtly imaginative poets Bendall overhears and whispers to the reader a lost language which is by turns brainy and promiscuous clueless and inscrutable bewitching and bereft a voice skirting a strange silence a goblin market of snares cures trifles and m tiers inconnus Under the spell of these poems worlds once imagined break into growls and fingersnaps undoing the rough magic of impersonation

The Visible Woman Allison Funk, 2021-01-01 In The Visible Woman Allison Funk writes of how women often disappear into the roles expected of them becoming invisible to themselves To fill in the thin chalk outline of herself that she's drawn and erased for as long as she can remember Funk returns to the anatomical model of The Visible Woman she left unassembled as a child With poems rather than the kit's plastic organs and bones she strives to create a likeness to embody herself In her efforts at self representation the poet is guided by the visual artist Louise Bourgeois her real life model of a woman who proved that art gives us a way of recognizing ourselves

Summoned Guillevic, 2015-08-01 The sixteenth of the twenty five major works of Guillevic published by Gallimard since 1942 Summoned Requis represents a pivotal moment in his oeuvre and reaffirms his position as an essential and compelling voice in contemporary poetry A long poem composed of short lapidary verse that the poet calls quanta each in itself a miniature poem Requi distils familiar themes and motifs of the Guillevician universe within an expanded vision encompassing the outer reaches of space Within this poetic hurly burly at once totalising and fragmented arboreal and rhizomatic cadenced and discontinuous expansive and condensed there is a summons to bear witness to the human condition while heeding the injunction of notre toucher De l illimit that seeks to transgress the boundaries of knowledge to abolish the dichotomies of presence and absence motion and stillness word and silence Here City Rick Snyder,2021-01-01 I always thought that Frank O Hara was really a modern Catullus transported to cast a naughty eye over NYC so who is Rick Snyder I suppose Lucretius is one guess with his observant materialism tonal modesty and plain living but there s also humour here the irony of Aristophanes bouncing through Bakhtin Deleuze and Plato Then there s the hints of a pastoral Theocritus landed in Tennessee Euripides Catullus as well he s a poet with more than one string to his classical bow but then there s Wordsworth and Ashbery and even Basho and yes O Hara playing through these flash card collages and lyrical odes and oddities atomistic instances and grand speculations In short measure we traverse a universe of contemporary ephemera and centuries of lyric play What remains constant here is the magic of wit and the living eye that makes lyric poetry live on every page Martin Corless Smith In sly and witty lyrics Rick Snyder forges elegies out of the neon debris of neo liberal America His cityscapes are simultaneously ironic and sublime a balancing act only possible through his exacting craft and pitch perfect ear The poems in Here City are self aware reflexive and full of wily surprise Joanna Fuhrman

The Curiosities Brittany Perham,2011-11-30 Brittany Perham s first collection THE CURIOSITIES fixes its sure and unsettling gaze on daughters and fathers sisters and brothers madness sickness longing and love These poems make up a cabinet of curiosities because they hold what is fascinating or frightening beautiful or awesome a stomach plumed by syringe a zoo s lost leopard a forest of high waisted trees up to the eye In their image making the poems place language itself beneath the glass slide of a microscope in order to discern its component structures its natural patterns Curiosity here is a way of looking unsatisfiable looping back on itself yielding only further questions In these uncanny and passionate poems our own lives are made strange to us and we are wonderstruck Small Sillion Joshua McKinney,2018-11-24 Joshua McKinney s fourth collection Small Sillion enacts a lyric struggle to perceive the numinous in a world marked by violence The term sillion as used by Hopkins in his famous poem The Windhover refers to a furrow turned over by a plough For McKinney it is both prelude to fertility and wound a scarring of the land Maintaining a tension between the visionary and the mundane between joy and despair these poems posit a border between language and the living world they constitute a personal eco poetics of skepticism one that respects language s utility and radiance while acknowledging that the world s complexity lies beyond the grasp of language Blood Orbits Ger Killeen,2009 Poetry BLOOD ORBITS is a series of poems and prose poems exploring various conceptualizations of history both as a generative principle of meaning and as particular contexts and events through which we shape our subjectivities In language that is richly musical and startlingly surreal these poems interrogate and confront narratives that encode oppression violence and dishonesty both the grand narratives which structure our place in history as well as the stories that we as individuals tell ourselves to make sense of our lives in their dailiness In writing that is at once philosophically sophisticated and restlessly energetic the poetry of BLOOD ORBITS brings to life what Wallace Stevens called the hum of thoughts evaded in the mind exploring ideas as ideas but also evolving a poetic language that squarely confronts the consequences of those ideas in real human lives The Prison Poems Miguel Hernández,2008 The first complete translation into English of Hernandez s Cancionero y romancero de ausencias a classic of 20th century Spanish poetry showcases works that go beyond political ideology and constantly strive toward a redemptive vision of the human condition Quarry Carolyn Guinzio,2008 Poetry Since at least the days of Horace poets have found in nature in the local flora and fauna an invitation to observe name meditate and wonder In QUARRY Carolyn Guinzio s second collection this tradition continues in poems of tautly drawn subtle eloquence Her tone is somber her pace gradual as if at any moment something might happen to alter everything and toss the great endurance of life into ruin or revelation A tremendous question hangs in the December sky Ann Lauterbach These are beautiful poems Reading them one begins to weigh what it means to live with patience and inside language on the face of this still living earth Tony Tost The Wash Adam Clay,2006 Description Rich in river imagery and an intense sense of the passage of time The Wash explores the incessant music that permeates journeys with a destination unknown Interweaving the voices of John Clare Audubon Roethke and others the poems depict a landscape of loss in which language and images provide the only concrete platform on which to stand Ending with an elegy for the self portrait and an acceptance of the inevitability of decay the speaker discovers the stillness of frames both comforts and terrifies Playing a lyrical voice against the limits of silence The Wash uncovers the voices that can be made and heard in and out of nature About the Author Adam Clay s poems have appeared in Denver Quarterly The Iowa Review Barrow Street Black Warrior Review Fascicle CutBank The New Orleans Review Conduit Octopus Magazine Free Verse and elsewhere A chapbook Canoe is available from Horse Less Press Born and raised in Mississippi he earned an MFA from the University of Arkansas and an MA from The Center for Writers at The University of Southern Mississippi He now lives in Kalamazoo Michigan with his wife Kimberley What Others Have Said The Wash offers a dual tone voice that reaches for wisdom and doubt at once The result is a collection of poems both funny and discomfiting but above all genuine Adam Clay makes a songbird from the smallest moments and it s a pleasure to hear his song Maurice Manning These anachronistic poems are small as prayers but without the posturing Like John Clare on the long walk home from the asylum their speaker suffers not from attention deficit but from its surplus pierced by memory Nature Oblivion and the Giant Forms in which the shadows of fish live as the fish do A Romantic without heroism a naturalist who knows himself excluded from Nature s mirror he goes split from himself reeling through the tautology of a world without end This Clock a Clay observes with a Clare ity that includes pleasure dismay and eroticism how a rock turn s black with the memory of my face but just a sk and I will be your cuckoo for two hundred years Clay s is an un Enclosed speaker moving optimistically toward catastrophe The window was so clean I walked into it hoping for a headfull of sky Joyelle McSweeney On every page of The Wash Adam Clay discovers new kinds of eloquence elegance excitement and inward experience from which a language springs that can flow forward through present space wherever we are now and backward often to old England then downward into the still reaches of the heart where the waters give us our own faces back This book is an eye-ful and an ear-ful It teems with originality Michael Heffernan ... Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum. Department of Printed Books,1903 Catalogue of Printed Books ,1903 □□□□□□□□ □□□ □□□□□□□□ □□□□ Yermiyahu Ahron Taub,2008 Poetry Inspired by the poet s experience as an artist s model WHAT STILLNESS ILLUMINATED is a kaleidoscope of mysterious tableaux vivants Composed entirely of five line poems the book offers glimpses of individuals in moments of flux or revelation and suggestions of lives altered As if in a dream here a richly imagined film is made still its images and sounds slowed to a halt so that we can appreciate all of the different strands and their relation to each other With these distillations Taub sheds new light on the dramatic potential of all of these languages showing us what comes when they are seen read or heard next to each other Laura Levitt author of American Jewish Loss after the Holocaust The Academy ,1892 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1912 Academy and Literature Charles Edward Cutts Birch Appleton, Charles Edward Doble, James Sutherland Cotton, Charles Lewis Hind, William Teignmouth Shore, Alfred Bruce Douglas, Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, Thomas William Hodgson Crosland, 1892 The Literary World ,1896
