Barbara Hepworth - a Pictorial Autobiography Barbara Hepworth, 1970 A Pictorial Autobiography Barbara Hepworth, 1970 Internet Art Julian Stallabrass, 2003-10-28 Lenya, the Legend David Farneth, 1998-09 Born Karoline Blamauer in 1898 Lenya began her career as an actress and dancer in Zurich In 1920 s Berlin she met and married the young composer Kurt Weill and the two of them brought their talents to American theater when they left Nazi Germany This first visual biography of the extraordinary performer is an intimate and revealing portrait that Lenya fans and theater buffs won't want to miss 80 color photos 350 illustrations Nehru, a Pictorial Biography Michael Edwardes, 1962 The Life of Macky Trevor Mackereth, The Romantic Egoists Matthew Joseph Brucoli, Scottie Fitzgerald Smith, Joan Paterson Kerr, 2003 This pictorial autobiography of Scott and Zelda Fitzgerald documents two lives that have become legendary The book draws almost entirely from the scrapbooks and photograph albums that the Fitzgeralds scrupulously kept as their personal record and provides a wealth of illustrative material not previously available Minnesota a photograph of the country club in Montgomery Alabama where the two met reviews of This Side of Paradise poems to the couple from Ring Lardner snapshots of their trips abroad Fitzgerald's careful accounting of his earnings a photograph of the house on Long Island where The Great Gatsby was conceived postcards with Fitzgerald's drawings for his daughter These rare photographs and memorabilia combine into a narrative augmented by selections from Scott's and Zelda's own writings conveying the spirit of particular moments in their lives The Pageant of America, a Pictorial History of the United States, 1926 Mark Twain Himself Milton Meltzer, 1960 Pictorial biography composed of selections from Mark Twain's autobiography letters notebooks speeches sketches newspaper and magazine pieces giving highlights of his life A pictorial biography Richard Friedenthal, 1959 The Architecture of Error Francesca Hughes, 2014-11-07 Why the rise of redundant precision in architecture and the accompanying fear of error are key to understanding the discipline's needs anxieties and desires When architects draw even brick walls to six decimal places with software designed to cut lenses it is clear that the logic that once organized relations between precision and material error in construction has unraveled Precision already a promiscuous term seems now to have been uncoupled from its contract with truthfulness Meanwhile error and the always political space of its dissent has reconfigured itself In The Architecture of Error Francesca Hughes argues that behind the architect's acute fetishization of redundant precision lies a special fear of physical error What if we were to consider the pivotal cultural and technological transformations of modernism to have been driven not so much by the causes its narratives declare she asks as by an unspoken horror of loss of control over error material life and everything that matter stands for Hughes traces the rising intolerance of material vagaries from the removal of ornament to digitalized fabrication that produced the blind rejection of organic materials the proliferation of material testing and the rhetorical obstacles that blighted cybernetics Why is it she asks that the more we cornered physical error the more we feared it Hughes's analysis of redundant precision exposes an architecture of fear whose politics must be called into question Proposing error as a new category for architectural thought Hughes draws on other disciplines and practices that have interrogated precision and failure citing the work of scientists Nancy Cartwright and Evelyn Fox Keller and visual artists Gordon Matta Clark Barbara Hepworth Rachel Whiteread and others These non architect practitioners she argues show that error need not be excluded and precision can be made accountable
