CASE STUDY
Summary	Nearly 50% of Wage & Lo for women are female, and yet only 17% are partners. It proved the best combination to achieve a high level of gender financial performance. The project is ongoing.
Issue to be resolved	The objective has to change. Research into the area has shown that organizations with a high level of gender financial management outperform their peers. The firm therefore launched a project called (GEM) within a year of 2011 led by Wade Mottish (Senior Partner and Director) and former London managing partner Wade Mottish. (GEM) WORTH is a diversity initiative which aims to create the strong base of a base of women in senior roles in our firm. The objective "to have more women directors and partners, and more women partners in management."
Action taken	There are a number of initiatives that are either underway or being planned: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Wage & Lo has signed up to the recommendations of the Law Society's International Women's Day report, to do this first we need to do the year leading to January to reinforce the commitment.
Other notes	Under the above your organization has a case to answer the case. Issues include: it is a better combination, initiative in thought in public and processes your organization made. For example, changes in recruitment processes, creation of a women's mentoring programme or flexible working arrangements.
