Animal Thinking:

Animal Thinking Donald Redfield Griffin, 1984 Discusses renewed interest in conscious mental experiences of animals and the possibility that thoughts and feelings of animals can be studied objectively

Animal Minds Donald R. Griffin, 1992
Animal Minds tackles a question that is both fascinating and important The overwhelming body of evidence that Donald Griffin has assembled puts beyond reasonable doubt the case for recognizing that many non human animals are capable of much more sophisticated thinking than many scientists have been prepared to believe Peter Singer author of Animal Liberation

Animal Thinking Randolph Menzel, Julia Fischer, 2024-03-19 Experts from psychology neuroscience philosophy ecology and evolutionary biology assess the field of animal cognition Do animals have cognitive maps Do they possess knowledge Do they plan for the future Do they understand that others have mental lives of their own This volume provides a state of the art assessment of animal cognition with experts from psychology neuroscience philosophy ecology and evolutionary biology addressing these questions in an integrative fashion It summarizes the latest research identifies areas where consensus has been reached and takes on current controversies Over the last thirty years the field has shifted from the collection of anecdotes and the pursuit of the subjective experience of animals to a rigorous hypothesis driven experimental approach Taking a skeptical stance this volume stresses the notion that in many cases relatively simple rules may account for rather complex and flexible behaviors The book critically evaluates current concepts and puts a strong focus on the psychological mechanisms that underpin animal behavior It offers comparative analyses that reveal common principles as well as adaptations that evolved in particular species in response to specific selective pressures It assesses experimental approaches to the study of animal navigation decision making social cognition and communication and suggests directions for future research The book promotes a research program that seeks to understand animals cognitive abilities and behavioral routines as individuals and as members of social groups

Animal Minds Donald Redfield Griffin, 2001 In Animal Minds Donald R Griffin takes us on a guided tour of the recent explosion of scientific research on animal mentality Are animals consciously aware of anything or are they merely living machines incapable of conscious thoughts or emotional feelings How can we tell Such questions have long fascinated Griffin who has been a pioneer at the forefront of research in animal cognition for decades and is recognized as one of the leading behavioral ecologists of the twentieth century With this new edition of his classic book which he has completely revised and updated Griffin moves beyond considerations of animal cognition to argue that scientists can and should investigate questions of animal consciousness Using examples from studies of species ranging from chimpanzees and dolphins to birds and honeybees he demonstrates how communication among animals can serve as a window into what animals think and feel just as human speech and nonverbal communication tell us most of what we know about the thoughts and feelings of other people Even when they don't communicate about it animals respond with sometimes surprising versatility to new situations for which neither their genes nor their previous experiences have prepared them and Griffin discusses what these behaviors can tell us about animal minds. He also reviews the latest research in cognitive neuroscience which has revealed startling similarities in the neural mechanisms underlying brain functioning in both humans and other animals. Finally in four chapters greatly expanded for this edition Griffin considers the latest scientific research on animal consciousness pro and con and explores its profound philosophical and ethical implications.

Animal Wise Virginia Morell, 2014-03-25 The New York Times Bestseller that explores animal intelligence and will alter the way we as humans view other species. Have you ever wondered what it is like to be a fish? Or a parrot, dolphin or an elephant? Do they experience thoughts that are similar to ours or have feelings of grief and love? These are tough questions but scientists are answering them. They know that ants teach and rats love to be tickled. They've discovered that dogs have thousand word vocabularies and that birds practice their songs in their sleep. But how do scientists know these things? Animal Wise takes us on a dazzling odyssey into the inner world of animals and among the pioneering researchers who are leading the way into once uncharted territory: the animal mind. Morell uses her formidable gifts as a storyteller to transport us to field sites and laboratories around the world introducing us to animal cognition scientists and their surprisingly intelligent and sensitive subjects. She explores how this rapidly evolving controversial field has only recently overturned old notions about why animals behave as they do. In this surprising and moving book Morell brings the world of nature brilliantly alive in a nuanced deeply felt appreciation of the human animal bond.

In this introduction to the philosophy of animal minds Kristin Andrews introduces and assesses the essential topics, problems and debates as they cut across animal cognition and philosophy of mind. She addresses the following key topics: what is cognition and what is it to have a mind? What questions should we ask to determine whether behaviour has a cognitive basis? the science of animal minds explained: ethology, behaviourist psychology and cognitive ethology; rationality in animals; animal consciousness: what does research into pain and the emotions reveal? What can empirical evidence about animal behaviour tell us about philosophical theories of consciousness? does animal cognition involve belief and concepts? do animals have a Language of Thought? animal communication: other minds, do animals attribute mindedness to other creatures?
