Animate Illusions Harold E. Toliver, 1974-01-01     The Distinction of Fiction Dorrit Cohn, 2000-12 Winner of the Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Comparative Literary Studies from the Modern Language Association Winner of the Modern Language Association s Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Comparative Literary Studies The border between fact and fiction has been trespassed so often it seems to be a highway Works of history that include fictional techniques are usually held in contempt but works of fiction that include history are among the greatest of classics Fiction claims to be able to convey its own unique kinds of truth But unless a reader knows in advance whether a narrative is fictional or not judgment can be frustrated and confused In The Distinction of Fiction Dorrit Cohn argues that fiction does present specific clues to its fictionality and its own justifications Indeed except in cases of deliberate deception fiction achieves its purposes best by exercising generic conventions that inform the reader that it is fiction Cohn tests her conclusions against major narrative works including Proust s A la Recherche du temps perdu Mann s Death in Venice Tolstoy s War and Peace and Freud s case studies She contests widespread poststructuralist views that all narratives are fictional On the contrary she separates fiction and nonfiction as necessarily distinct even when bound together An expansion of Cohn s Christian Gauss lectures at Princeton and the product of many years of labor and thought The Distinction of Fiction builds on narratological and phenomenological theories to show that boundaries between fiction and history can be firmly and systematically explored

Animate Illusions; Explorations of Narrative Structure Harold E. Toliver, 1974     The Temporal Mechanics of the Fourth Gospel Douglas Estes, 2008-01-01 By redefining narrative temporality in light of modern physics this book advances a unique and innovative approach to the deep seated temporalities within the Gospel of John and challenges the implicit assumptions of textual brokenness that run throughout Johannine scholarship     Tense and Narrativity Suzanne Fleischman, 2010-07-22 In this pathfinding study Suzanne Fleischman brings together theory and methodology from various quarters to shed important new light on the linguistic structure of narrative a primary and universal device for translating our experiences into language Fleischman sees linguistics as laying the foundation for all narratological study since it offers insight into how narratives are constructed in their most primary context everyday speech She uses a linguistic model designed for natural narrative to explicate the organizational structure of artificial narrative texts primarily from the Middle Ages and the postmodern period whose seemingly idiosyncratic use of tenses has long perplexed those who study them Fleischman develops a functional theory of tense and aspect in narrative that accounts for the wide variety of functions pragmatic as well as grammatical that these two categories of grammar are called upon to perform in the linguistic economy of a narration     Truthfulness and Tragedy Stanley Hauerwas, 2025-02-15 In Truthfulness and Tragedy Stanley Hauerwas provides an account of moral existence and ethical rationality that shows how Christian convictions operate or should operate to form and direct lives In attempting to conceptualize the basis of Christian ethics in a manner that will render

Christian convictions morally intelligible the author casts fresh light on traditional theoretical issues and articulates the distinctive Christian response to contemporary concerns such as suicide medical ethics and child care The first section of the book deals with methodological issues the meaning and nature of practical reason obligation claims natural law and self deception and the affinity of story and ethics It focuses on the relation of truthfulness and tragedy and the need for a story a set of religious convictions or grammar of theology that does justice to the tragic character of human existence The second section addresses substantive issues suicide euthanasia and the value of survival the moral limits of population growth the definition of person for medical reasons and social involvement and Christian ethics The overall theme is the need for a community in which truthfulness is a way of life In the final section devoted to the problem of how to care for disabled children the implications of the author's ethical position are given concrete expression He discusses the assumptions underlying the willingness to have children criteria for humanness medical ethics and how truthful communities deal with suffering In Truthfulness and Tragedy Stanley Hauerwas extends and clarifies the ethical position set forth in his earlier books Character and the Christian Life and Vision and Virtue

Why Narrative? Stanley Hauerwas, L. Gregory Jones, 1997-10-28 Narrative Theology is still with us to the delight of some and to the chagrin of others Why Narrative is in reprint because it represents what is still a very important question This diverse collection of essays on narrative theology has proven very useful in university and seminary theology classes It is also of great use as a primer for the educated layperson or church study group Jones and Hauerwas have done an excellent job of selecting representative essays that deal with appeals to narrative in areas such as personal identity and human action biblical hermeneutics epistemology and theological and ethical method

Irony in Mark's Gospel Jerry Camery-Hoggatt, 2005-10-06 The author of this lucid and interdisciplinary study of Mark's Gospel believes that when applied to Gospel texts sociological analysis and literary criticism may be far closer together in purpose and intent than is often supposed Professor Camery Hoggatt therefore begins his work with an exploration of the social functions of narrative in general and of ironic narrative in particular He then turns to the literary functions of the internal elements of the narrative and draws the two discussions together into a single framework that can be used as a lens through which Mark's Gospel can be read The author's claim is that irony especially dramatic irony thoroughly permeates the Gospel and that this evinces a rhetorical strategy central to Mark's whole narrative The second half of the book shows that the presence of irony is especially powerful when the deeper level of meaning is somehow hidden from the story's characters

Time and the Novel Patricia Drechsel Tobin, 2015-03-08 Formalist criticism of the modern novel has concentrated on its spatial aspects Patricia Tobin focuses instead on the modern novel's temporal structure She notes that the genealogical imperative that dominated the nineteenth century novel in which one event gave birth to another has broken down in the twentieth century novels she studies Further she draws parallels between this collapse of linear narrative and the current challenge to linearity from many other areas of modern thought Beginning with Mann's

Buddenbrooks as a family chronicle novel that fully embodies the classical genealogical structure the author extends her analysis to include distortions of the linear perspective in Lawrence s The Rainbow Faulkner s Absalom Absalom Nabokov s Invitation to a Beheading and Marquez s One Hundred Years of Solitude She finds that in these novels about family relationships the continuity of time family and story has dissolved so that past present and future have lost their distinctions sins against the dynastic family are not only recognized but celebrated and literary and existential meanings are suspended in unlikely juxtapositions irrational metamorphoses and proliferating possibilities Professor Tobin suggests that the disappearance of the genealogical imperative in the contemporary world s sense of reality may account for much of what appears to be anonymous peripheral and excessive in post modern fiction Originally published in 1979 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Spatial Form in Narrative Jeffrey R. Smitten, Ann Daghistany, Ann Daghistany Ransdell, 1981      Institutions of the English Novel from Defoe to Scott Homer Obed Brown, 1997 After analyzing the figurative and thematic uses of private letters and social gossip in the constitution of the novel Brown explores what was instituted in and by the fictions of Defoe Fielding Sterne and Scott with extensive discussion of the way Scott s work played a pivotal role in the novel s rise to institutional status      Genre , 1983      The Narrative Interrelationship of Author, Narrator, Protagonist, and Reader in the Novels of José Donoso Pamela Ruth Hill, 1979      The American Detective Form in Novels and Film, 1929-1947 Eleanor Anne Ponder, 1983      Books in Print , 1994      The Writer's Advisor Leland G. Alkire, Cheryl I. Westerman, 1985      Nebraska State Publications Checklist , 1973      The Exploded Form James M. Mellard, 1980 Mellard posits a Hegelian progression to literary history and particularly to the literary history of the last 40 years For him thesis antithesis synthesis is roughly parallel to naive critical sophisticated and he uses works by William Faulkner Joseph Heller and Richard Brautigan as examples of each phase      The Publishers' Trade List Annual , 1988      Individuations Terry J. Peavler, 1987-06-24
