The Early Avant-Garde in Twentieth-Century Literature and Art Willard Bohn,2018-05-11 This book focuses on avant garde literature and art in Europe and America during the first quarter of the twentieth century It examines five movements that shaped our response to the demands of the modern age and contributed to the creation of a modern sensibility Cubism Futurism the Metaphysical School Dada and Surrealism Each of these arose in response to recent scientific technological and or philosophical developments that drastically affected modern civilization In turn each was responsible for a major paradigm shift that altered the way in which we view and respond to the world around us The final chapter is comparative in nature and studies the role of the mannequin in literature and art during the same period The Turn of the Century Christian Berg, Frank Durieux, Geert Lernout,1995 Rewritten versions of contributions to an international conference held at the University of Antwerp in May 1992 Starting point for the conference was the vagueness of the very terms modernism and modernity In the first section a group of comparatists address the theoretical and terminological problems of modernism Practical readings of modernist writers discussions of different modernist movements and the work of critics who have contributed to debates about modernism make up the second section The third section looks at the problem of modernism from an interartistic and interdisciplinary perspective German Literature as a Transnational Field of Production, 1848-1919 Lynne Tatlock, Kurt Beals,2023 A collection of new essays bringing into view the push and pull of the national and the international in the German language cultural field of the period The cultural formations of the so called Age of Nationalism 1848 1919 have shaped German language literary studies to the present day for better or worse Literary histories German self representations the view from abroad all of these perspectives offer images of a culture ever more concerned with formulating a coherent nationally focused idea of its origins history and cultural community But even in this historical moment the German speaking territories were not culturally self contained international forces always played a significant role in the constitution of the so called German literary and cultural field This volume rethinks the historical period with fourteen case studies that bring into view the push and pull of the national and international in Germany Austria and Switzerland undertaking a reframing of literary cultural history that recognizes the interrelatedness of literatures and cultures across political and linguistic boundaries Viewing even overtly national literary and cultural projects as belonging to an international system these case studies examine the interrelations organization and positioning of the agents forces enterprises and processes that constituted the German language literary cultural field locating these ostensibly national developments within an inter or even anti national context
