Networking the Nation Alison Chapman, 2015-07-16

How did nineteenth century women's poetry shift from the poetess poetry of lyric effusion and hyper femininity to the muscular epic of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Aurora Leigh?

Networking the Nation re-writes women's poetic traditions by demonstrating the debt that Barrett Browning's revolutionary poetics owed to a circle of American and British women poets living in Florence and campaigning in their poetry and in their salons for Italian Unification.

These women poets Isa Blagden, Elizabeth Kinney, Eliza Ogilvy and Theodosia Garrow Trollope formed with Barrett Browning a network of poetry, sociability and politics which was devoted to the mission of campaigning for Italy as an independent nation-state.

In their poetic experiments with the active lyric voice in their forging of a transnational persona through the periodical press in their salons and spiritualist spaces the women poets formed a network that attempted to assert and perform an independent unified Italy in their work.

Networking the Nation maps the careers of these expatriate women poets who were based in Florence in the key years of Risorgimento politics, racing their transnational social and print communities and the problematic but schismatic shift in their poetry from the conventional sphere of the poetess.

In the fraught and thrilling engagement with their adopted nation's revolutionary turmoil and in their experiments with different types of writing agency the women poets in this book offer revolutions of other kinds: revolutions of women's poetry and the very act of writing.

The

Alcalde, 1967-11

As the magazine of the Texas Exes, The Alcalde has united alumni and friends of The University of Texas at Austin for nearly 100 years. The Alcalde serves as an intellectual crossroads where UT's luminaries, artists, engineers, executives, musicians, attorneys, journalists, lawmakers and professors among them meet bimonthly to exchange ideas.

Its pages also offer a place for Texas Exes to swap stories and share memories of Austin and their alma mater. The magazine's unique name is Spanish for mayor or chief magistrate; the nickname of the governor who signed UT into existence was The Old Alcalde.
