Case Study 1: Generalized Anxiety Disorder

Mary is a 35-year-old woman who has been experiencing excessive worry and anxiety for the past six months. She worries about everything, from her job performance to the health of her family members. She has difficulty falling asleep at night and feels fatigued during the day. She has also been experiencing muscle tension, irritability, and difficulty concentrating. Mary's symptoms have started to interfere with her work and social life. She has seen her primary care physician, who referred her to a mental health specialist.

After an evaluation, Mary is diagnosed with generalized anxiety disorder. Her mental health specialist recommends a combination of cognitive-behavioral therapy and medication. Mary attends therapy sessions where she learns how to identify and challenge her negative thoughts and worries. She also practices relaxation techniques and mindfulness exercises. She is prescribed an antidepressant medication that helps to reduce her symptoms.

Over the next several months, Mary's symptoms improve, and she reports feeling more relaxed and less worried. She is able to sleep better at night and has more energy during the day. She continues therapy and medication management to maintain her progress.

Case Study 2: Panic Disorder

John is a 28-year-old man who has been experiencing sudden and intense panic attacks for the past year. He feels like he is having a heart attack and experiences shortness of breath, chest pain, and dizziness. The attacks come on unexpectedly and have started to interfere with his daily life. He has avoided going to social events and has stopped exercising because he is afraid of having an attack.

After an evaluation, John is diagnosed with panic disorder. His mental health specialist recommends a combination of cognitive-behavioral therapy and medication. John attends therapy sessions where he learns about panic disorder and how to manage his symptoms. He learns relaxation techniques, mindfulness exercises, and cognitive restructuring to challenge his negative thoughts about panic attacks. He is also prescribed an antidepressant medication that helps to reduce his symptoms.

Over the next several months, John's symptoms improve, and he reports feeling more in control of his panic attacks. He is able to attend social events and start exercising again. He continues therapy and medication management to maintain his progress.

Case Study 3: Social Anxiety Disorder

Sarah is a 22-year-old college student who has been experiencing intense fear and anxiety in social situations for the past three years. She is afraid of being judged or embarrassed in front of others, so she avoids social situations whenever possible. She has difficulty speaking up in class and has trouble

Case Studies In Psychopathology:

Case Studies in Abnormal Psychology Kenneth N. Levy, Kristen M. Kelly, William J. Ray, 2017-12-07 Case Studies in Abnormal Psychology presents a broad range of cases drawn from the clinical experience of authors Kenneth N. Levy, Kristen M. Kelly, and William J. Ray to take readers beyond theory into real life situations. The authors take a holistic approach by including multiple perspectives and considerations apart from those of just the patient. Each chapter follows a consistent format: Presenting Problems and Client Description, Diagnosis and Case Formulation, Course of Treatment, Outcome and Prognosis, Treatment Follow up, and Discussion Questions. Providing empirically supported treatments and long term follow up in many case studies gives students a deeper understanding of each psychopathology and the effects of treatment over time.

Case Studies in Psychopathology Timothy Thomason, 2020-05 This book contains brief biographical portraits of 50 notable people who may have had a mental disorder. Each person's life is described with an emphasis on their personality, significant life events, and potential psychological symptoms. The author provides diagnostic impressions about any disorders the person may have had based on the current DSM 5 diagnostic system.

Case Studies in Clinical Psychological Science William O'Donohue, Scott O. Lilienfeld, 2013-01-29 In the past few decades, clinical science has emerged as a prominent model for training and practice in clinical psychology. This model emphasizes evidence derived from high quality research and is consistent with the increasingly influential evidence based movement in medicine, which is a vital step toward making psychotherapy more effective, efficient, and safe. Despite this trend, much current psychological practice is not evidence based; moreover, there is a marked dearth of resources available to train students and assist practitioners with the challenging goal of translating science into practice. Case Studies in Clinical Psychological Science demonstrates in detail how the clinical science model can be applied to actual cases. Edited by Professors William O. Donohue and Scott O. Lilienfeld, this book's unique structure presents dialogues between leading clinical researchers regarding the treatment of a wide variety of psychological problems, from depression and Alzheimer's disease to Panic Disorder and chronic pain. Chapters describe what evidence based practice consists of for various clinical problems and are followed by commentary sections in which other leading clinical researchers analyze the case at hand, pointing out additional assessment and treatment options and controversial issues. The chapter authors then reply to the commentary in response sections. By examining the application of scientifically based interventions to actual cases and modeling thoughtful and collegial discussion among prominent clinical researchers, Case Studies in Clinical Psychological Science will assist students, practitioners, and clinical researchers with the crucial task of applying research evidence to psychotherapy and bridging the gap between science and practice.

Case Studies in Abnormal Psychology Ethan E. Gorenstein, Ronald J. Comer, 2001-06-15 The casebook provides 17 additional case histories based on the authors' clinical experiences, each going beyond DSM IV diagnosis to describe the individual's history and symptoms, a theoretical discussion of treatment, a specific treatment plan, and the actual treatment.

conducted The casebook also provides 3 cases without diagnosis or treatment so students can identify disorders and suggest appropriate therapies

Case Studies in Psychopathology Timothy C. Thomason, 2013 Case Studies in Abnormal Psychology Thomas F. Oltmanns, John M. Neale, Gerald C. Davison, 1999 Connect the Theory to Real Human Stories Case Studies in Abnormal Psychology takes mental disorders from the realm of theory into the complex reality of human lives In all you ll find 22 in depth cases that focus on symptoms the client s history treatment and the outcome These cases illustrate a variety of problems including mood disorders anxiety disorders schizophrenia personality disorders and various disorders of childhood and aging They also allow students to see how theories in the field can be applied to real life problems Case Studies in Abnormal Psychology 5 e Provides detailed descriptions and examples of a range of clinical problems Illustrates the many ways in which these problems can be viewed and treated Discusses the evidence concerning epidemiology etiology and treatment of the disorders in question Includes 10 to 15 year follow ups for some patients describing their response to treatment and long term social adjustment Features a completely new case of bulimia nervosa treated by cognitive behavior therapy in group format How the Case Studies are Structured Each case is presented in depth with a full chapter devoted to each patient Many cases include excerpts of dialog from therapy interviews Each case is compared with DSM IV diagnostic criteria for relevant disorders Some treatment failures are presented as well as successes New discussions are provided concerning gender related issues such as the impact of rape and sexual abuse as well as relational distress and depression All cases end with a discussion of etiology and treatment that illustrates the application of research to individual clients problems and alerts readers to important gaps in our knowledge of abnormal psychology

Adult Psychopathology Case Studies Irving B. Weiner, 2003-10-15 A unique case study book Adult Psychopathology Case Studies presents adult client case studies that describe the ways in which people with psychological disorders are likely to think feel and act Written by experienced clinicians and well known authorities in their respective specialties it brings together the work of an international group of contributors who address the nature origin development manifestations course and prognosis of a diverse range of adult psychopathological conditions Close examination is given to the clinical personal contextual theoretical ethical and legal dimensions of case studies along with insightful real world focus on overlapping themes such as culture substance abuse domestic violence and sexual abuse Authors illustrate rational case formulation but stop short of exhaustive or doctrinaire analyses that would discourage alternative opinions on how and why a disturbance occurred or its likely outcome giving students an opportunity to apply their own knowledge to each case and providing instructors with material that will spark lively classroom discussion and debate The contributors also bring a broad range of theoretical perspectives to the diverse array of case studies including psychoanalytic psychodynamic interpersonal cognitive and cognitive behavioral conceptualizations of psychopathology and psychotherapeutic methods Adult Psychopathology Case Studies includes thirteen full length case studies in the following categories Personality disorders Anxiety and somatoform disorders Identity disorders

Habit disorders Serious or psychotic disorders Also included are six brief case studies covering Adjustment disorder Dependent personality disorder Schizotypal personality disorder Generalized anxiety disorder Polysubstance dependence Depressive disorder Adult Psychopathology Case Studies offers an engaging and perceptive look into the real world of adult psychopathology and provides students with an enriching hands on learning experience as they apply their knowledge and techniques to each of the unique case studies provided in this book

Case Studies in Child and Adolescent Psychopathology DeDe Wohlfarth, Robin K. Morgan, 2024-09-23 The third edition of Case Studies in Child and Adolescent Psychopathology provides engaging narratives of clients with complex family situations The answers to important real world questions are often nuanced contextual and tentative Unlike the idealistic scenarios presented in most textbooks these case studies contain ethical lapses clinical mistakes confusing diagnostic pictures cultural misunderstandings unevenly applied evidence based approaches and sometimes unhappy endings The fictional but realistic portrayals of clients help students learn the skills needed to be successful in the mental health field Critical thinking questions designed to develop objective analysis and evaluation abilities are embedded throughout the cases These questions can become individual or group assignments for in person hybrid and online formats The problem based learning approach challenges readers to create accurate case conceptualizations and evidence based treatment plans The cases utilize the International Classification of Diseases and the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders The current research applied in the cases deepens understanding of the etiology and treatment of these disorders and captures the tremendous progress in the field of psychology in establishing evidence based treatment Continuing the book s tradition of diversity the third edition includes a paraplegic father a blind psychologist Asian American Black biracial Muslim Latinx and Native American participants with differing socioeconomic circumstances immigration statuses and sexual orientations
