Case Studies In Rehabilitation:

Case Studies in Rehabilitation Patricia A. Ghikas, Michele Clopper, 2001 A variety of cases are presented in Case Studies in Rehabilitation covering a myriad of topics such as orthopedics neurology rheumatology and oncology These case studies represent the primary adult pathologies impairments and functional limitations seen by clinicians The case studies will also allow the reader to focus on the concept of disability for an individual when developing a comprehensive plan of care The user friendly format allows the user to choose from one of the many topics for practice in developing treatment plans case analysis or to focus on one area of practice An important function of this book is that it allows for the integration of didactic learning and hands on practice when patients are not readily available All case studies are presented in a narrative format with accompanying forms that are frequently encountered in clinical practice Case Studies in rehabilitation will also help students as they learn to interact with the patients they will be treating in their future careers This text will allow them to fine tune their skills in dealing with a variety of different patients and cases and indicate how to handle each individual case in the best possible manner Case Studies of Rehabilitation Activity University of Auckland. Urban Research Group, 1980 Rehabilitation and Disability E. Davis Martin, Gerald L. Gandy, 1990 Case Studies in Neuropsychological Rehabilitation Barbara A. Wilson, 1999 After a discussion of current theory and research findings relating to rehabilitation of brain injury this book presents 20 case studies of adults with severe brain injuries sustained several years earlier The causes of their brain damage include traumatic head injuries encephalitis stroke and hypoxia Problems that follow such injuries including loss of self care skills memory impairment language reading visuoperceptual and behavioural difficulties are analysed in detail The book describes the premorbid lifestyle of each of the 20 individuals the onset of their brain damage subsequent symptoms neuropsychological assessment rehabilitation and long term outcome Most chapters include a report by the patient and or family member thus providing an extra dimension that helps to increase the reader s understanding of the predicaments faced by brain injured individuals as they learn to cope with traumatic changes in lifestyle Although improvement for most brain injured people is slow and limited all those described in this book made some progress after their admission to rehabilitation services The exhaustive analysis of each case and step by step description of treatment will encourage professionals and other care givers that much can be done for this severely injured group For students of neuropsychology and rehabilitation the book should serve as an inspiring and informative supplementary text Case Studies in Neurological Rehabilitation Tarek A-Z.
