Conflict and Colonialism in 21st Century Romantic Historical Fiction Hsu-Ming Teo, Paloma Fresno-Calleja, 2024-06-13 This book explores how postmillennial Anglophone women writers use romantic narrativisations of history to explore revise repurpose and challenge the past in their novels exposing the extent to which past societies were damaging to women by instead imagining alternative histories The novelists discussed employ the generic conventions of romance to narrate their understanding of historical and contemporary injustice and to reflect upon women s achievements and the price they paid for autonomy and a life of public purpose The volume seeks firstly to discuss the work of revision or reparation being performed by romantic historical fiction and secondly to analyse how the past is being repurposed for use in the present It contends that the discourses and genre of romance work to provide a reparative reading of the past but there are limitations and entrenched problems in such readings

Romance and Readership in Twentieth-Century France Diana Holmes, 2006-12-14 Romance in modern times is the most widely read yet the most critically despised of genres Associated almost entirely with women as readers and as writers its popularity has been argued by gender traditionalists to confirm women s innate sentimentality while feminist critics have often condemned the genre as a dangerous opiate for the female masses This study adopts the more positive perspective of critics such as Janice Radway and takes seriously the pleasure that women readers consistently seem to find in romance Drawing on the social constructionist feminism of Simone de Beauvoir the psychoanalytical theories of Jessica Benjamin and a range of social theorists from Bourdieu to Zygmunt Bauman the book uncovers the history of romantic fiction in France from the late nineteenth to the early twenty first century and explores its place in women s lives and imaginations Romance is not defined as it usually is solely in terms of its mass market form Rather the history of women s popular fiction is traced in its full context as one dimension of a literary story that encompasses the mainstream or middlebrow as well as high culture Thus this study ranges from the formula romance from the pious but popular Dolly to global brand Harlequin through middlebrow bestsellers like Marcelle Tinayre Fran oise Sagan R gine Deforges to critically esteemed stories of love in the work of such authors as Colette Simone de Beauvoir Elsa Triolet and Camille Laurens Criss crossing the boundaries of taste and class as well as those of sexual orientation the romance has been at times reactionary at others progressive utopian and contestatory It has played an important part in the lives of twentieth century women providing both a source of imaginative escape and a fictional space in which to rehearse and make sense of identity relationship and desire
