Power, Resistance and Conflict in the Contemporary World Athina Karatzogianni, Andrew Robinson, 2009-10-16 This book examines issues of organisation in resistance movements discussing topics including the integration of the world system the intersection of networks with discourses of identity and the possibility of social transformation Drawing on a number of theorists including Deleuze and Guattari authors Athina Karatzogianni and Andrew Robinson seek to reinterpret World Systems Theory in order to engage with issues of power resistance and conflict in the contemporary world Discussing contemporary scholarship in global politics the authors consider new and developing concepts including global cities bifurcations hegemonic transitions the relationship between capitalism and the state the position of East Asia and active and reactive network movements Their analysis includes a very rich pool of empirical examples covering more than fifty countries and thirty resistance groups Power Resistance and Conflict in the Contemporary World will be of interest to students and scholars looking for a comprehensive new theorization of the forces at work in global politics The book provides a framework which crosses the boundaries between international relations international political economy comparative politics conflict studies social movement studies and critical theory producing a study of a highly interdisciplinary scope Conflicts of Power in Modern Culture Conference Science, Philosophy and Religion Relation Way Life, 1947 Conflict, Power, and the Landscape of Constitutionalism Gilles Tarabout, Ranabir Samaddar, 2020-11-29 The book seeks to critically examine the implication of a constitution of law for a political society It presents a collection of essays that seek to investigate how power acts on power how limits produce excess how separation of powers produces the union of powers sanctified by the very constitution that had guaranteed the division in the first place and how the theory of separation is at the same time a myth and a reality At the backdrop of the book of course is the theory that every good constitution rigorously separates the legislature the executive and the judiciary from one another to guarantee the independence of each of these powers such that this separation results in life liberty and security If a constitution however symbolises and produces power precisely because it separates one site of power from another it follows that it is power itself that is the limit of power Constitutionalism as a political culture of laws therefore must explain the dynamics of power The book addresses both constitutions and the societies in which they emerge Many of the essays in this collection show how institutional practices originating from a legal text create a matrix of power that owes its life neither to a contract between men nor between the state and men nor even between the society and men but rather to relations established organized and formalized by laws The collection is significant because it gives colonial and post colonial experiences a justified place in studies of law and constitutionalism for it shows that while Montesquieu Kant and Burke each in their own way were promoting the spirit of laws a more significant history of law making was being enacted in order to defend a particular rule and a particular type of government on another side of the world Based on comparative studies in several countries across three continents the book centrally deals with issues of constitutionalism politica Conflicts of Power in Modern Culture Lyman Bryson,Louis Finkelstein,Robert Morrison MacIver,1964 Conflict of Power in Modern Culture.
