

Joyce and the Stream of Consciousness

- Stream of Consciousness is a literary technique which was pioneered by Dorothy Richardson, Virginia Woolf, and James Joyce.
- Stream of consciousness is characterized by a flow of thoughts and images, which may not always appear to have a coherent structure or cohesion.
- The plot line may weave in and out of time and place, carrying the reader through the life span of a character or further along a timeline to incorporate the lives (and thoughts) of characters from other time periods.
