Confessions Of A Fake Priest:

Confessions of a Fake Priest Caroline Fairless, 2001 There is a certain glibness a certain tongue in cheekness about the way I use the word fake with regard to my priesthood And I intend it that way Not as a joke Not as a throwaway line And not as a clever repartee designed to sidestep my own accountability But it s the word I choose and I have not been able to find one better to describe this terrible and shocking notion that continues to hold me in its grip that I have no business here Such candor is the hallmark of Caroline S Fairless s new JourneyBook which is the story of her journey to ordination her ordained life her disillusion and her rebirth into a new understanding of priesthood Her story is a tapestry weaving together the strands of reflection and experience in the tale of a rich and complex search for authenticity The Living Church, 2001-07

Eros Crucified Matthew Clemente, 2019-11-08 Bringing contemporary philosophers theologians and psychoanalysts into dialogue with works of art and literature this work provides a fresh perspective on how humans can make sense of suffering and finitude and how our existence as sexual beings shapes our relations to one another and the divine It attempts to establish a connection between carnal bodily love and humanity s relation to the divine Relying on the works of philosophers such as Manoussakis Kearney and Marion and psychoanalysts such as Freud and Lacan this book provides a possible answer to these fundamental questions and fosters further dialogue between thinkers and scholars of these different fields The author analyzes why human sexuality implies both perversion and perfection and why it brings together humanity s baseness and beatitude Through it the author taps once more into the dark mystery of Eros and Thanatos who to paraphrase Dostoevsky forever struggle with God on the battlefield of the human heart This book is written primarily for scholars interested in the fields of philosophical psychology existential philosophy and philosophy of religion
