Confessions Of A Secular Jew A Memoir:

Judaism, Race, and Ethics Jonathan K. Crane, 2020-06-29 Recent political and social developments in the United States reveal a deep misunderstanding of race and religion From the highest echelons of power to the most obscure corners of society color and conviction are continually twisted often deliberately for nefarious reasons or misconstrued to stymie meaningful conversation This timely book wrestles with the contentious dynamic and ethically complicated relationship between race and religion through the lens of Judaism Featuring essays by lifelong participants in discussions about race religion and society including Susannah Heschel Sander L Gilman and George Yancy this vibrant book aims to generate a compelling conversation vitally relevant to both the academy and the community Starting from the premise that understanding prejudice and oppression requires multifaceted critical reflection and a willingness to acknowledge one's own bias the contributors to this volume present surprising arguments that disentangle fictions factions and facts The topics they explore include the role of Jews and Jewish ethics in the civil rights movement race and the construction of American Jewish identity rituals of commemoration celebrating Jewish and black American resilience the Yiddish gaze on lynchings of black bodies and the portrayal of racism as a mental illness from nineteenth century Vienna to twenty first century Charlottesville Each essay is linked to a classic Jewish source and accompanied by guiding questions that help the reader identify salient themes connecting ancient and contemporary concerns In addition to the editor the contributors include Sander L Gilman Annalise E Glauz Todrank Aaron S Gross Susannah Heschel Sarah Imhoff Willa M Johnson Judith W Kay Jessica Kirzane Nichole Ren e Phillips and George Yancy

A Mirror in the Roadway Morris Dickstein, 2021-08-10 In a famous passage in The Red and the Black the French writer Stendhal described the novel as a mirror being carried along a roadway In the twentieth century this was derided as a naive notion of realism Instead modern writers experimented with creative forms of invention and dislocation Deconstructive theorists went even further questioning whether literature had any real reference to a world outside its own language while traditional historians challenged whether novels gave a trustworthy representation of history and society In this book Morris Dickstein reinterprets Stendhal's metaphor and tracks the different worlds of a wide array of twentieth century writers from realists like Theodore Dreiser Sinclair Lewis Edith Wharton and Willa Cather through modernists like Franz Kafka and Samuel Beckett to wildly inventive postwar writers like Saul Bellow G nter Grass Mary McCarthy George Orwell Philip Roth and Gabriel Garc a M rquez Dickstein argues that fiction will always yield rich insight into its subject and that literature can also be a form of historical understanding Writers refract the world through their forms and sensibilities He shows how the work of these writers recaptures yet also transforms the life around them the world inside them and the universe of language and feeling they share with their readers Through lively and incisive essays directed to general readers as well as students of literature Dickstein redefines the literary landscape a landscape in which reading has for decades been devalued by society and distorted by theory Having begun with a reconsideration of realism the book concludes with several essays probing the strengths and limitations of a historical approach to literature and criticism American Night Alan M. Wald,2012-10-15 American Night the final volume of an unprecedented trilogy brings Alan Wald s multigenerational history of Communist writers to a poignant climax Using new research to explore the intimate lives of novelists poets and critics during the Cold War Wald reveals a radical community longing for the rebirth of the social vision of the 1930s and struggling with a loss of moral certainty as the Communist worldview was being called into question The resulting literature Wald shows is a haunting record of fracture and struggle linked by common structures of feeling ones more suggestive of the negative dialectics of Theodor Adorno than the traditional social realism of the Left Establishing new points of contact among Kenneth Fearing Ann Petry Alexander Saxton Richard Wright Jo Sinclair Thomas McGrath and Carlos Bulosan Wald argues that these writers were in dialogue with psychoanalysis existentialism and postwar modernism often generating moods of piercing emotional acuity and cosmic dissent He also recounts the contributions of lesser known cultural workers with a unique accent on gays and lesbians secular Jews and people of color The vexing ambiguities of an era Wald labels late antifascism serve to frame an impressive collective biography The New York Public Intellectuals and Beyond Ethan Goffman,Daniel Morris,2009 Here a variety of distinguished scholars revisit and rethink the legacy of the New York intellectuals showing how this small predominantly Jewish group moved from communist and socialist roots to become a primary voice of liberal humanism and in the case of a few to launch a new conservative movement Index to Jewish Periodicals ,2003 An author and subject index to selected and American Anglo Jewish journals of general and scholarly interests The Puzzle Louis Arthur Berman,2003 Here is a fresh and readable solution to a major Darwinian puzzle Homosexual acts do not lead to reproduction which to Darwin was the major shaper of a species yet male homosexuals appear in virtually every society ancient traditional and modern The Puzzle describes homosexual life as it exists in the U S and in a number of other cultures drawing upon field work surveys clinical work and the writings of gay men themselves The author s by product theory is backed by evidence from anthropology laboratory biology and experimental psychology In an Epilogue the author discusses some practical issues social and psychological related to homosexuality Current Contents Institute for Scientific Information (Philadelphia),2002 American Book Publishing Record ,2003 The New Jewish American Literary Studies Victoria Aarons,2019-04-18 Introduces readers to the new perspectives approaches and interpretive possibilities in Jewish American literature that emerged in the twenty first Century The Best American Essays 2006 Robert Atwan,2006 Presents an anthology of the best literary essays published in 2014 selected from American periodicals The Best American Essays ,2006 Michigan Quarterly Review ,2011 Great Expectations, by Charles Dickens Eugene
