McGinn, Kate Wild, 1995 The simultaneous presence of a revolutionary change in information technologies and a growing demand for fundamental changes in the education system have set in motion a reassessment of the relationship among information research and decision making The International Bureau of Education IBE considered it necessary to introduce new elements into the discussion based on the conclusions of a series of new case studies on the use of research in the process of educational change and on the ways that educational information and documentation systems function There are two studies presented here Using Research in Educational Policy and Administrative Decision Making

Fernando Reimers and Noel McGinn and Information Availability and Its Impact on Educational Policy Making Planning and Decision Making Implications for Educational Information Services Kate Wild that IBE considers propitious to publish in a single volume The thesis of the first paper is that supporting decision making with research based knowledge is a complex undertaking A fruitful strategy involves identifying and addressing the multiple groups of stakeholders involved as part of the research process The purpose of the second paper is to explore the relationship between the availability of information and improvements in the effectiveness of educational systems particularly but not exclusively as it relates to the reporting of research results and to examine the implications for information and documentation services The basic objective of this publication is to promote a dialogue among the three main partners in this process political decision makers researchers and documentalists based on systematic and up to date information Such a dialogue should lead to a reduction in the rifts misunderstandings stereotypes and obstructions that have often weakened the outcomes of this work
