Conrad's Measure of Man Paul Lazon WILEY,1954 Conrad's Measure of Man Paul Luzon Wiley,1970 Conrad's Models of Mind Bruce Johnson,1971-07-14 Conrad's Models of Mind was first published in 1971 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions In a new approach to understanding the psychological assumptions that lie behind the creation of a work of fiction Professor Johnson analyzes a number of Joseph Conrad's novels and short stories identifying and explaining Conrad's changing conceptions or models of mind As he points out in his introduction Every writer makes assumptions about the nature of the mind whether they may be elaborate theories metaphors that seem simple but imply a great deal downright beliefs or vague gestalten And such assumptions color his whole creation the way his characters think and feel and react possibly even his choice of subject matter The author traces Conrad's steady progression away from deductive psychology involving such entities as will passion ego or sympathy toward a flexible and for the period new psychology that had implications for his entire development as a writer Professor Johnson finds certain affinities between Conrad's models of mind and those of a number of other writers among them Schopenhauer Sartre and Pascal He shows that one aspect of Conrad's psychology was closely allied to the Schopenhauerian concept of will but that when he wrote Lord Jim Heart of Darkness and Nostromo Conrad moved toward an existential concept of self image and self creation similar to Sartre's psychology in Being and Nothingness Finally Professor Johnson examines Conrad's novel The Rescue and shows how hopeless it was for Conrad to return to earlier conceptions of mind after he had explored the new existential models

Conrad's Short Fiction Lawrence Graver,2023-04-28 In recent years critics and readers alike have increasingly recognized the unique brilliance of Joseph Conrad's short fiction elevating it to the pinnacle of his artistic achievements Marvin Mudrick in his provocative analysis even argues that Conrad's finest works are his novellas suggesting that their compact scope perfectly channels his intense moral and psychological explorations While Mudrick's view might challenge the centrality of Conrad's renowned novels like Lord Jim or Nostromo it highlights the enduring power of works such as Typhoon The Shadow Line and Heart of Darkness which encapsulate Conrad's themes with unparalleled clarity and force This book delves into Conrad's mastery of short fiction examining his evolution as a writer and the creative tensions he navigated Conrad's long short stories as he termed them straddle the line between compact storytelling and the expansive narrative techniques of the novel With works often ranging around 30 000 to 40 000 words his ideal length for achieving narrative depth and realism Conrad forged a form that resonated deeply with his artistic sensibilities even if it challenged market conventions By exploring the thematic and structural intricacies of his short fiction this study reveals how Conrad's tales reflect his quest for a balance between innovation moral complexity and reader engagement This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1969
