Developing Managerial Competence William Tate, 1995 A welcome and comprehensive analysis of the MCI within the context of modern management development The book emphasizes the benefits of linking management development with organisational strategy

Developing Managerial Competence Jonathan Winterton, Ruth Winterton, 2002-03-11 Workplace training and education have increasingly been seen as pivotal factors in improving the abilities skills and competitiveness of industry and the aim of the Management Charter Initiative MCI was to improve managers practical competency in line with this Under the MCI qualification was gained by proving managerial competence in work related tasks rather than by studying for a theoretical educational qualification such as an MBA or degree This book provides a welcome and comprehensive analysis of the MCI within the context of modern management development It emphasizes the benefits of linking management development with organizational strategy and includes up to date analysis of how management development can be measured the first comprehensive assessment of the impact of using Management Standards practical illustrations with sixteen in depth case studies of contemporary organizations This revealing book is endorsed by the MCI and includes a foreword by Professor Tom Cannon whose leadership spearheaded and developed the MCI itself

Management Theory, Innovation, and Organisation Katarzyna Szczepańska-Woszczyzna, 2020-12-29 Competencies are a component of human capital and one of the most important assets of an enterprise They play an important role in strengthening the position of the company in a competitive market Investing in the development of competencies increases the organisation s ability to grow and compete through innovations This book presents a multi dimensional analysis of the relationship between managerial competencies and innovations It analyses the role of a manager in a modern organisation functions performed by managers management styles and key challenges including shaping behaviour in the process of managing change in an organisation as well as an analysis of the structure of competencies in particular managerial competencies and the conditions of the process of forming managerial competencies Management Theory Innovation and Organisation A Model of Managerial Competencies illustrates the organisational conditions of innovativeness which is the relationship between strategy structure organisational culture and leadership and knowledge management and innovation management The developed model can undoubtedly be considered the author s pioneering contribution to the studies of managerial competencies and innovativeness The book will be valuable to researchers students and managers in the fields of leadership organizational studies innovation management and human resource management

Towards a Competent Workforce Bob Mansfield, Lindsay Mitchell, 1996 For over a decade the UK has been engaged in a radical reform of its vocational education and training This book contains the first comprehensive description of Functional Analysis the method developed to define occupational standards and National Vocational Qualifications It also discusses changes in contemporary work patterns arguing that a new model of occupational competence is needed the Job Competence

Model The text is in four parts covering strategy models and methodologies and how to apply them in practice Both authors have both been closely associated with the methods and models described in the book and their personal insights add enormously to the value of the material

Typology of Knowledge, Skills and Competences Jonathan Winterton, Françoise Delamare-Le Deist, Emma Stringfellow, 2006 The third in a series of Cedefop publications dealing with technical aspects of the European Qualification Framework and European Credit Transfer System this book analyses current practice in countries that have made progress with evaluating and defining competence It proposes a typology of knowledge skills and competence to be used not as an instrument of harmonisation between countries but as a template to enable comparison The aim is to promote mobility in every sense bringing work based learning and knowledge acquired in higher education closer together

The Management of Small Tourism and Hospitality Firms Rhodri Thomas, 1998 This text provides an overview of the scale and scope of small firms in the tourism and hospitality industries and examines the key issues affecting their development

Strategic Human Resourcing John Leopold, Tony J. Watson, Lynette Harris, 1999 Assuming a basic knowledge of HRM this text discusses the underlying principles and how they manifest themselves in practice and uncovers the different perspectives of the parties to the employment relationship The focus is on the roles and responsibilities of the personnel specialist and line manager in developing human resourcing policy and operational practice Single source text for discussion of key debates within contemporary employment practice Underlying principles are clearly demonstrated using practical examples Human resourcing policies and practices are considered in a range of organisational contexts Concentrates on strategy making in the context of practice as opposed to strategy formulation as an abstract and formalistic activity
